12 ARE ARRESTED AS AGENTS SMASH HUGE KIDNAP RING

Total of $900,000 in Ransom Money Estimated Paid to Two Groups, State and Federal Officials Disclose.

THREE MEN ADMIT GANG ACTIVITIES

Revelations Come When Four of Touhy Group Stand Trial in St. Paul for Abduction.

CHICAGO, Nov. 9.—(AP)—State and federal officials today estimated the revenues of two separate gangs of kidnapers at $900,000 as they gathered evidence against at least a dozen men.

The state's attorney's investigators questioned three men who they said were members of a previously unknown band that collected $500,000 from its victims in the last two years.

Melvin H. Purvis, chief of the Chicago bureau of investigation of the department of justice, said the Roger Touhy gang, seven of whose members were indicted yesterday for the kidnaping of John Factor, had committed some 25 or 30 kidnapings in the same period and obtained $400,000 in ransoms. Touhy and three henchmen are on trial for kidnaping in St. Paul.

State's Attorney Thomas J. Courtney sought to verify statements purported to have been made by one of the men they are questioning. The police would not disclose which man made the statement.

Those in custody were Frank Souder, of Benton; Dave Jones, of St. Charles; and Gale Swolley, of Peoria, Illinois.

The investigation was made public yesterday after attorneys for Souder sought to obtain his release by a writ of habeas corpus.

The purported confession, which the Chicago Evening American printed, gave the names of victims and amounts of ransoms paid for their release, how the men were stolen from their homes and where they were held prisoners.

The police said several members of the band had attended colleges, and that with the possible exception of one none of them had police records. Yet, they said, they preyed chiefly on persons who would not appeal to the police for aid and at one time defied Al Capone when he sought the release of one of their victims.

The statement disclosed that the gang kidnaped William Urban, of Peoria, and obtained $100,000 for his release; James Blackett, of Blue Island, who paid $75,000 at one time and later $15,000; John J. Lynch, of Chicago, who was freed for $50,000, and about seven others.

The band also discussed William Skidmore, frequently identified with Chicago gambling, and Mayor Edward

Hull to Head Group At Montevideo Meet

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—(AP)—President Roosevelt tonight announced a delegation of six, headed by Secretary Hull, to represent the United States in the conference of Pan-American states in Montevideo.

The delegates will be Alexander W. Wedell, ambassador to Argentina; Reuben Clark, of Utah, former ambassador to Mexico; J. Butler Wright, Wyoming, minister to Uruguay; Spruille Braden, New York, and Miss Sophonisba P. Breckinridge, of Kentucky.

Hugh S. Cumming Jr. was named assistant to Hull.

'Gunman' and His 'Moll' Disrupt Class With 'Rod'

CHICAGO, Nov. 9.—(AP)—Another boy talked to Sammy Lombardo's girl in algebra class today.

His startled teacher wrenched his fighting equipment away from him. It was a loaded .38 caliber revolver.

Hudson avenue police, a little bewildered, found Constance Macaluso, 14, a helpful witness. Sammy had forced her, she said, to carry his gun for him in approved gun-moll style, in her lunch basket.

GIANT STOCK POOL, 12 MILLION PROFIT, BARED BY PECORA

By DON J. KIRKLEY.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—(AP)—How millions in profits were made from giant oil stock pool in 1929 and 1930 by a handful of operators led by Arthur W. Cutten, without any investment on their part, was described today before the senate banking committee.

Ferdinand Pecora, its counsel, through documentary evidence and in questioning Cutten, developed that the group netted upward of $12,000,000 in handling nearly 2,000,000 shares of Consolidated Oil, which they paid for out of receipts.

It also was brought out that the New York Stock Exchange now is making an investigation of the pool. Cutten, noted grain and stock trader, managed the operations, in which Harry F. Sinclair, head of Consolidated Oil, also participated.

Sinclair is absent.

Sinclair was due to appear today, but illness kept him at Kansas City. G. T. Stanford, his attorney, promised the committee the oil chief might probably appear next Wednesday or Thursday to relate his part in the transactions.

John J. Raskob, former chairman of the democratic national committee, in a voluntary and surprise appearance, said a syndicate, headed by Cutten, had been formed in 1929, and to prevent a run on the bank.

Smith, whose 1928 presidential campaign was managed by Raskob, was asked to purchase 100 shares of Sinclair Oil.

Raskob said the syndicate purchased 3,794 shares for $916,608, and was closed on November 15, 1932, when the stocks were distributed and debts owed the Chase National bank paid. He said it was not intended for speculation purposes.

Cutten, who followed Raskob, was under examination virtually all day. He never smiled and answered questions briefly.

Sinclair, Cutten said, took the initiative in the Sinclair Oil transaction, which was a purchase of 100 shares of the company was making to raise additional capital.

The issue was underwritten by several companies, including Blair & Company, the Sherman Corporation, the Cullen Company, the Farnham Corporation, the Traynor Corporation and several individuals, including Sinclair, Arthur Reynolds, A. M. Andrews, L. W. Hill and C. O. Kalman.

Cutten and counsel, M. F. Tompkins, presented a table showing that profits of this group aggregated $12,000,000, with Sinclair's share from a 22 1/2 per cent interest amounting to $2,632,962.

Pecora brought out there were two accounts, the first a purchasing syndicate and the other a trading syndicate. The latter had profits of $418,333.

Other Shares Bought.
Cutten said that in addition to buying 1,130,000 shares from the oil company, the pool purchased 702,760 shares at varying prices and sold all other 1,022,692 shares. Pecora presented.

CAPITAL EXPECTS EARLY DECISION ON RECOGNITION

Roosevelt and Litvinoff Postpone Thursday Conference to Meet Today. No Obstacles Seen.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—(AP)—Preliminaries apparently over, an early decision on Russian recognition was foreshadowed by a conference arranged for tomorrow between President Roosevelt and Maxim Litvinoff, the soviet state's foreign minister.

Litvinoff met Secretary Hull and other government officials today at the state department. Members of the group said no further conversations were planned other than those at the White House.

Secretary Hull said before Litvinoff's arrival that the president and the Russian diplomat would deal directly with the matter which brought the latter here—recognition—after an understanding had been reached on important details.

Mr. Roosevelt saw Litvinoff yesterday and talked with him for almost an hour but at that time all the matters to be taken up during direct discussions on the restoration of diplomatic relations had been thoroughly reviewed.

Conference Postponed.
The conference between the president and Litvinoff at first was scheduled for 3 P. M. today. Due to the press of other matters the time for this meeting was later changed to noon tomorrow.

Secretary Hull, Litvinoff and other officials who have been conferring at the state department since yesterday have waived questions aside. It was indicated, however, that nothing had been decided during the conversations which seemed likely to be a serious obstacle to the resumption of normal relations between the two nations.

Litvinoff, with a bulging brief case, the chubby Litvinoff was in his customary genial humor after the two-hour parley at the state department.

John J. Raskob, former chairman of the democratic national committee, in a voluntary and surprise appearance, said a syndicate, headed by Cutten, had been formed in 1929, and to prevent a run on the bank.

Non-NRA Concern Qualifies for Contract

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—(AP)—Comptroller-General McCarty today held that the treasury could legally make payments to the George F. Driscoll Company, of Brooklyn, a construction company denied contract by the New York state police building because it had not signed the president's re-employment agreement when its bid was submitted.

The comptroller general held that vital things in the president's re-employment program are acceptance and observance by employers of the covenant of his tendered agreement, to the end that wages may be increased and new employment created.

He also said it would be out of line with the recovery program and "far afield from the high plane on which the president is operating" to employ for other than an impelling reason a low bidder for public work who has in the past things fully co-operated with the president's plan.

The Driscoll company was one of two which first went into court with NRA issues. It was low bidder last February on the New York contract. New bids were called for in October, including in the specifications the stipulation that bidders must have subscribed to the president's agreement.

Low Tax on Liquor Seen To Discourage 'Legging'

Roosevelt May Relax Import Embargo Until Actual Repeal—Bars Meanwhile Open For Unhindered Business.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—(AP)—President Roosevelt and his aids agreed today to permit relaxation in the liquor import embargo to permit a replenishing of medicinal supplies between now and repeal of prohibition next month.

It also was agreed to ask for only a moderate tax on liquors after repeal in an effort to discourage bootlegging and make it unprofitable.

No definite amount was fixed on imports up to December 7 but the figure 250,000 gallons was spoken of.

The White House prohibition committee also favored liberal allowances of distilled liquors immediately so that whisky and wine may be manufactured in bond to meet the expected demand.

Meanwhile speakers from the Atlantic to the Pacific did a landoffice business in the open today despite a justice department warning that the Volstead act would be enforced until December 5.

Jumping the repeal gun like Oklahoma boomers did 40 years ago in a rush for land claims, speakers and night clubs in many cities did away with peep holes and welcomed the public to "old-fashioned," gin fizzes and whisky.

"The law is still there," was the way a justice department official put it today in commenting on reports that doors had been opened to long hidden brass rails and whisky stocks were being displayed along with patent medicines in drug stores.

It is up to the United States district attorneys and the prohibition agents to see that the law is enforced," said the justice official. "That is the policy of this department."

Meanwhile, frosted cocktail shakers were rocked to and fro in the hands of white-jacketed bartenders, who for the past 14 years have hidden their art behind barred doors.

"What are you going to do about it?" was the way Cleveland authorities answered questions about the repeal of prohibition law.

The justice department official replied: "Of course, we can't tell state authorities what to do."

GOVERNOR FREES MRS. DA HUGHES IN FARM STRIKE

Atlanta Woman, First Sentenced to Die '23 for Slaying, Paroled.

Mrs. Ida Hughes, diminutive Atlanta woman, who shot and killed her mother-in-law in an argument over clothes, is free today after 10 years of imprisonment in the state prison at Milledgeville.

Governor Talmadge granted her a parole Wednesday upon the recommendation of the Georgia prison commission and Judge G. H. Howard, who presided at the sensational trial in 1923.

Mrs. Hughes was one of the few women ever to be sentenced to death for a capital crime in the state of Georgia, but her sentence was commuted to life imprisonment.

The Atlanta woman shot her mother-in-law, Mrs. J. W. Hughes, with a pistol on Sunday morning, in the spring of 1923, in the presence of two officers of the law and her husband. The elder Mrs. Hughes had lived with her son and his wife in a small house near East Point, but quarrels and domestic trouble forced her to move. She left some clothing at her daughter-in-law's house, and returned for them with two policemen and a passkey warrant granted by a justice of the peace.

With the officers, the elder Mrs. Hughes entered her son's home. She began a search for the clothes and started rummaging in her daughter-in-law's room. She found a pistol, which she fired pointed blank at her husband's mother, killing her instantly.

Solicitor-General John A. Boykin prosecuted Mrs. Hughes at the trial, and the jury brought in a verdict of guilty with the death sentence. Judge Howard was not in the court the night the verdict was reached and the jury read its decision before a group of lawyers. Subsequently, lawyers for Mrs. Hughes sought her release on habeas corpus, holding that the verdict should not have been opened without the presence of the presiding judge. The case then was fought before the Georgia supreme court.

F. D. R. Orders Speed On Relief Program

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—(AP)—President Roosevelt speeded up his enlarged relief campaign today by conference with Secretary Ickes and Harry L. Hopkins, relief administrator.

With the goal of putting 4,000,000 men, now on part-time relief work on a self-sustaining basis, Mr. Roosevelt ordered an open throttle for the program.

Mr. Ickes prepared to advance $400,000,000 from the public works fund to accomplish the giant relief work drive.

The president has fixed November 10 as the date for relieving 2,000,000 men from the relief rolls to a self-sustaining basis.

COTTON AND WHEAT ADVANCE BRISKLY AS DOLLAR SINKS

Pound Sterling Reaches Record High of $5.07. Cotton Up Nearly $1 a Bale.

By the Associated Press.
The American dollar, responding to President Roosevelt's currency policy, plunged to new low levels in London Thursday as evidences of the plan were seen on other markets.

The dollar opened at $4.98 1/2, closed officially at $5.02 3/8 to the pound, and in after hours trading skidded to $5.07 1/4 on the London exchange.

So fast was the descent that the house of commons, assured by Chancellor of the Exchequer Chamberlain that the independence of the British sterling would be maintained, could not keep up with it.

Financial writers watched with great interest the movement of the dollar and the rise in American commodity prices but professed to see no cause for alarm.

Rally in Stocks.
Rising gold prices and a decline in international dollar rates caused a rally in stocks in New York, checked somewhat by late profit-taking. Inflationary sentiment predominated and the close was irregular.

Grain closed buoyant at Chicago, 3 3/8 to 3 3/4 cents above Wednesday's finish. Corn was up 1 5/8 to 2 1/8 cents; oats advanced 1 3/8 to 1 3/4 cents, and provisions rose 2 cents to 25 cents. Cotton extended its recent gains by nearly $1 a bale, bringing the average levels of futures above 10 cents and pushing spot close to that figure.

Bar silver pushed up a full cent in New York to 42 7/8 cents an ounce, the highest in three years. This rate compares with 24 1/4 cents a year ago, but was still less than the figure silver producers regard as satisfactory.

In Paris the new American gold price brought the dollar down from an opening at 16.16 francs (6.188 cents to the franc) to 16.05 francs (6.25 cents), but it recovered to 16.15 francs (6.19 cents) following the rise in sterling. Yesterday's final figure was 16.30 francs (6.13 cents).

Gold continued to flow out of the Bank of France because of public discussions of the franc's danger. The gold board is estimated to have sent out since the September 1 high of $2,277,000,000 francs and is the lowest since last April 7.

In Berlin the dollar sold at 2.65 marks (37.7 cents to the mark), compared to 2.67 marks (37.4 cents) yesterday.

Jesse H. Jones, chairman of the Reconstruction Corporation, said Thursday that so far it had purchased 213,000 ounces of domestic gold.

Jones could not say anything as to the amount of gold purchased abroad. He could not give exact dollars and cents figures but the total was around $6,500,000.

His trip through the midwest was over, he explained, for the purpose of attempting to "plate" the opposition that had been reported.

By the Associated Press.
The midwest's farm strike took a new twist Thursday as violence and toward persuasion.

Another railroad bridge blazed near Portsmouth, Iowa, and the authorities blamed farmers for the attack.

Generally, however, roads in the northwest were open, and cattle, hogs and milk moved freely to market. Farm Holiday Association leaders of South Dakota awaited action from the governor on their newest request for a 10-day state embargo on farm products.

"We'll bottle 'em up tight," a spokesman threatened if the embargo was not granted.

Opposing them were Sioux Falls city officials, who said the farmers' blockade had let so little live stock through that the packing house workers' jobs were threatened.

The campaign of persuasion was started in northern Illinois, where strikers enlisted produce buyers in their cause and brought about the shutdown of receiving stations at Morris, Ill., and of some grain elevators in Morris and Kankakee.

Thirty-eight strikers were hailed into court at Milledgeville, charged with unlawful assembly and fined $1 each. Leaving the heart of the farm strike area after a series of addresses, General Hugh S. Johnson, NRA administrator, took off from Omaha for Kansas City.

As the farm strike quieted, the coal miners dug in, threatening to call a general strike throughout Pennsylvania's anthracite fields unless they get action today from the national labor board.

Picketing at Dunmore and Dickinson, Pennsylvania.

Jesse H. Jones, chairman, in announcing this, said banks in the 10 cotton states may have made loans totaling several times the amount reported to Washington. He added the banks have until July 1 to call on the corporation for money.

Another problem facing the corporation is that of cotton farmers who took options in return for reduction of their 1933 crop. Many of these want the government to make loans on their options. Jones said it was entirely probable that some plan would be worked out.

Atlanta Bridge Team Beats Sims-Vanderbilt

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—(AP)—The Atlanta, Ga., team tonight eliminated the defending champions in the first knockout round of the Vanderbilt cup contract bridge matches.

In the first major upset of the tournament, the Atlantians, W. L. Cary, Don Daniel, Mrs. J. T. Daniel and William Harvey, had a plus of 1,900 after 30 boards against P. Hal Sims, Harold S. Vanderbilt, Edward Hynes Jr., and Waldemar Von Zedtwitz.

KEY WILL REOPEN FIGHT FOR SEWER AND JAIL FUNDS

Special Council Meeting Planned Monday; Application Will Be Made to New Civil Works Body

Backed by administration leaders, Mayor James L. Key Thursday prepared to reopen the fight for metropolitan sewer improvements and also for funds with which to construct a new police station. He plans to seek the funds from the newly created civil works administration, set up by President Roosevelt for the purpose of gainfully employing 4,000,000 men, thus taking them from charity relief rolls of the government.

The mayor will call a special meeting of city council for Monday at which time he planned Thursday to ask that council reopen its application for federal loans for sewers. He was bolstered in his confidence in the success of the renewed enterprise by the fact that the $400,000,000 fund the public works administration fund is to "take care of matters which the public works administration could not accomplish."

May Send Group to Capital.
Council also will be asked for funds to send a delegation to Washington November 15 to confer with Harry L. Hopkins, appointed secretary of the newly established division.

It is probable that Alderman Ed A. Gilliam, chairman of the special council committee to obtain funds for a new jail; Alderman J. S. Tilton, member of the municipal budget commission; and B. Graham West, comptroller, will form the Atlanta official delegation to protect the city's interests in Washington. Ronald Ransom, chairman of the Georgia relief commission, also will attend the Washington conference.

"Under the new division it is apparent that the government plans extensive public works," the mayor said Thursday. "That means that if the plan is made applicable to Atlanta and Georgia in any manner, some improvement will be made in the city. There is no more urgent need than for a jail, which we think we already have fairly arranged, and the ever present and dangerous sewer condition of the metropolitan area."

"I see no reason why we would not be able to obtain an equitable portion of the money to be distributed and to utilize it for sewer improvements which we must have if we are to protect the health and lives of our citizens."

The mayor also was interested in a hint by Gutson Borglum, original Stone Mountain Confederate memorial sculptor, that a fund of $200,000 might be obtained for carrying at Stone Mountain. In answer to a telegram

Philippine Women Granted Suffrage

MANILA, Nov. 9.—(AP)—Suffrage was granted the women of the Philippines today, marking the first extension of the right to vote to the women of an oriental country.

Enfranchisement came through the action of the ninth insular legislature shortly before final adjournment. It passed the suffrage bill on recommendation of Governor General Frank Murphy, former mayor of Detroit.

There was little opposition. Women will be placed on the same electoral basis as men. They must be 21 years of age, able to read and write and possess property worth at least $250.

The bill will not become law until after January 1, 1935, which will prevent women from balloting next June at the triennial elections.

Murphy revived an apparently dead issue when he urged in his first message as governor general last July that women of the Philippines be allowed to vote.

Child's Death Reveals 'Pug' Boyd's Marriage

Death of their first child Thursday revealed the secret marriage on August 31, 1932, of Marvin (Pug) Boyd, Tug football and baseball player, and Miss Margaret Scarborough, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Scarborough.

The marriage was kept so close a secret that none outside of their immediate families and intimate friends knew of it.

The couple were married at Anderson, S. C. Boyd, an outstanding backfield man at Tech who has distinguished himself in several games, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Marvin Boyd, of 40 Eleventh street, with whom the young couple is living for the present. Mrs. Boyd's condition was said to be satisfactory.

President Takes Drastic Steps To Restore Order and Halt Guerrilla Tactics in Havana; 100 Dead

NO CHANGE IS MADE IN POLICY OF U. S.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—(AP)—High government authorities answered reports of new violence in Cuba with reiterated late today that intervention was not under consideration.

Officials made it plain that despite numerous requests for intervention from private sources, the government had not swerved from its policy against such a step.

No official reports had reached government authorities at A. B. C. threats to sack American property as a means of forcing intervention. Some officials were inclined to believe the threats did not come from authoritative leadership of any Cuban political group.

By JOHN P. MCKINIGHT.
HAVANA, Nov. 9.—(AP)—Cuban rebel forces late today surrendered the ancient Atrás fortress, their last main stronghold, in a bloody rebellion with an estimated 40 to 50 of their number killed by furious bombardment from land and sea.

Among those killed was Juan Blas Hernandez, veteran rebel leader, who yesterday joined revolutionary forces seeking the return of Manuel de Cespedes to the presidency. Survivors said that the casualties it was believed the rebellion's toll would exceed 100 killed and 200 wounded.

With the surrender of some 1,500 rebel fighters, the uprising was regarded as broken. Brilliant lights flashed from the capital tonight signifying the government's victory.

For six hours today a steady stream of three-inch shells and machine gun and rifle bullets poured into the fortress before the rebels ran up the white flag at 4:07 P. M. Survivors said the walls had begun to crumble. Among the casualties were about 100 wounded rebels.

Confusion Reigns.
With the fall of the fortress, utter confusion reigned in the capital, making it impossible to compile an accurate list of casualties. The rebellion started in the early morning hours last Wednesday.

At nightfall snipers were active and scattered rifle and machine gun fire tore through the city streets, the sniping died down and comparative quiet fell.

The government took drastic steps to bring the reign of terror and strengthen its state of war order by making it a "state of siege." No one was allowed in the streets after 6 P. M. without a military pass.

The new order called upon all civilians to return their arms.

Among those slightly wounded today was a civilian who claimed to be an American. He refused to give his name and details of the shooting, saying he did not want the publicity.

The battle of Atrás was the bitterest and most spectacular of the recent fights in war-torn Cuba, and apparently marked a decisive blow to rebel elements.

Unless wandering groups of rebel snipers can be assembled and reorganized under competent leadership, observers believe that the government will be able to wipe out, slowly but surely, the handfuls of rebels.

The only other rebels' chance was

Battle in Council Presaged On Budget Estimates for '34

By HERMAN D. HANCOCK.
Council's police committee Thursday night was "smoked out" of a scheduled meeting at the police station by what was termed "the little police committee, without portfolio," in a move to abrogate the authority of the budget commission. The move was reported to have been launched through anticipation of $1,500,000 more revenue in 1934 than can be collected this year.

Councilman G. Dan Bridges, chairman of the council police committee, called a special meeting of that body to dispose of several routine matters, and when it assembled, it broke in on what was designated as the unofficial committee in session at the station.

Included in the group were Alderman J. Sid Tiller, Alderman-designate J. Glover Bailey and Ellis B. Barrett, Alderman Guy Coleman and Councilman Ed L. Almand.

In addition, A. Steve Nance, president of the Atlanta Federation of Trades, was there.

Nance was quoted as having said an anticipation of $1,500,000 more than was anticipated in 1933 should be produced in 1934 despite a tentative certification Thursday by the budget commission of approximately $8,392,000 for 1934, about the same figure as anticipated for this year.

Under the law the budget commission is empowered to certify anticipations to council, and although council can change allocation of the funds, which the budget commission also fixes, it can not, under provisions of the municipal charter, appropriate more money than the budget committee estimates.

The "unofficial" meeting Thursday night presaged a heated councilmanic battle to nullify activities of the budget commission, observers believe, and may be the initial step in a long-drawn-out council fight to attempt to force the budget commission to raise its estimates of anticipated receipts for 1934.

Bridges and Councilmen J. Raymond Curtis and Homer C. Foster, members of the council police committee, were those who failed to meet after crashing the unofficial gathering at police headquarters.

Accompanying Nance were the $1,500,000 additional should be anticipated to supplement available funds to meet municipal payrolls for the 4,500 employees of the municipality.

Those in the unofficial gathering declined to give it any significance, saying it was solely for a social chat, and denying it had any political aspect.

Under the acts of the Georgia assembly, the budget commission is all-powerful in estimating receipts. Tiller is a member of the commission. Thursday he attended the meeting of the commission at which 100 receipts were anticipated, and will sit in the commission session when Mayor James L. Key calls it to form a 1934 budget.

Air Mail Postage Rate Reduction Urged by Aviation Heads Here

Reduction in the air-mail postage rate as a means of increasing aviation business and eventually dispensing with the present government subsidy, was advocated Thursday by Captain T. B. Doe, president of Eastern Air Transport, and El. R. Breech, president of North American Aviation, and chairman of the board of Transcontinental and Western Air Express.

These officials came to Atlanta to inspect the business of their companies, and while here consulted with John K. Otley Jr., traffic manager of Eastern Air Transport.

The proposal to reduce air mail postage rate has been laid before the postoffice department and will be brought up in congress at its next session, Mr. Breech said.

"Lower prices brought greater demand and production in the automobile business, notably in General Motors, and we believe they would increase the volume of air mail and consequently the income of the transport companies," Mr. Breech said.

The proposed new rates would be three cents for a lettergram, instead of 5 cents as now; two cents for a postcard, and five cents an ounce straight or letter instead of the present rate of 8 cents for the first ounce, and 13 cents for each additional ounce.

The new per-pound-mile rate allowed the companies would be 5 mills for the first 50 pounds; 3 for the next 50, and one for the third 50. Above 150 miles the rate would be 1.2 mill. A minimum guarantee would be provided. The graduated pound rate, rather than the proposed two-mill flat rate, Mr. Breech pointed out, would enable small operators to handle the business profitably.

"This would mean more business for the government as well as the companies, and operating under the new rates I could safely promise that the subsidy would be virtually done away with in three years."

He said that the companies must increase their business to meet the growing demand for better and faster planes. These ships, he explained, are very expensive and must be overhauled frequently for safety. Two-thirds of a company's income, he said, go for pilots' wages and for fuel.

CODE WITHDRAWALS
HALTED BY JOHNSON

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—(AP)—Efforts were under way at NRA today to dissuade a number of industries which, on the strength of a line spoken by Hugh S. Johnson at Chicago last Monday, had sought to withdraw their proposed codes.

"No industry has to submit a code unless it is abusing labor," said Johnson in the Chicago speech. "It is simply not true that any industry has been coerced into a code."

A handful of industrial or trade groups wired deputies here suggesting that on the strength of that utterance they wished to withdraw. The NRA men, nonplussed at first, finally got in touch with Johnson by telephone, established from him that he intended no change in policy and that those who have submitted codes should be advised to go through with them.

This reply was being given today, together with a sales talk on the benefits to be obtained by industry from being under codes. So far as could be learned, the answers were all given by telephone, so no written word was added to the Johnson statement pending further developments.

The organization made public today a regulation signed by Johnson, forbidding use of "NRA" or "Blue Eagle" or "NIRA" trade marks or trade names for articles, such as candies or other products customarily sold under a distinctive name. A $500 fine or six months' imprisonment was authorized for violation of this, but the regulation made clear that it did not interfere with display of Blue Eagle insignia to indicate code compliance.

Further clarifying the exemption of small employers in towns under 2,500 population, NRA decreed that automobile dealers in these communities are not let out but must comply with the automobile retail code. The order explained that automobile selling was not confined to local areas strictly but ordinarily extended over "a relatively wide area."

NEGRO DOCTOR DENIES NEGLIGENCE CHARGES
Dr. George L. Hightower, negro physician, Thursday issued a statement refuting charges of negligence made in a suit filed against himself and Dr. John W. Burney and Dr. Nathaniel Lewis also colored.

Dr. Hightower's statement referred to a suit filed by Naomi Turnipseed alleging that Dr. Hightower had erroneously diagnosed her condition as cancer and that Dr. Burney and Dr. Lamar had confirmed the diagnosis and that she was caused to undergo an unnecessary operation.

"The allegations in the petition are false," Dr. Hightower said, "and are but an effort to get something for nothing. We are graduate, licensed physicians and surgeons with adequate hospital training, and those who know us will speak for our efficiency, treatment and service."

T. V. A. HEAD TO SPEAK IN ATLANTA TONIGHT
David E. Lillenthal, director of the Tennessee Valley Authority, in charge of the electric power development at Muscle Shoals, will speak on "A New Approach to the Power Problem" at the monthly meeting at 5:30 o'clock this evening of the Lawyers' Club of Atlanta. The meeting will be held at the Lawyers' Club dining room.

Mr. Lillenthal will be accompanied here by W. A. Sutherland, of Atlanta, who is general solicitor for the Tennessee Valley Authority. Upon leaving Atlanta, they will go direct to Tupelo, Miss., where they will execute the first contract for the sale of Muscle Shoals power direct to a municipality, since the Tennessee Valley Authority has taken over the operation of the power project at Muscle Shoals.

HORSE, MULE SHORTAGE IS CREATING CONCERN

Agricultural Department
Fears Situation May Grow Acute.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—(AP)—An approaching shortage in work horses and mules which may eventually reach serious proportions was predicted today by the department of agriculture.

The relatively high cost of tractors, gasoline and oil as compared with feed produced by the farmers is causing many of them again to look to horses and mules as their source of power, said the department's outlook for 1933-34.

Farm horses at some markets were as much as $25 a head higher in October, 1933, than a year earlier, the department reported. The danger of over-breeding was described as remote.

"It is evident that the present number of work horses and mules cannot be maintained, because the number of animals reaching working age is not large enough to replace animals of working age that die. The fact that since 1929 the prices of horses and mules have declined relatively less than have those of any other important agricultural product, indicates that a shortage was developing" the outlook said.

The decrease in the amount of work stock has been marked for several years, the report continued, citing that on January 1, 1933, the horses on farms numbered 12,163,000 or only 57 per cent of the number reported January 1, 1918.

"Even should any material increase in the purchasing power of farmers result in an increase in the use of mechanical power, the future need for work stock to replace an increasing proportion of old animals probably will be reflected in a growing demand for good animals for years," said the report.

PROHIBITION FORCES MAP GEORGIA FIGHT

Assault on State Bone Dry
Law Must Be Met,
Gaines Says.

W. W. Gaines, Atlanta attorney and chairman of the Consolidated Forces for Prohibition in Georgia, in a statement Thursday said prohibitionists are "greatly grieved" over repeal of the eighteenth amendment "for we feel that the nation has taken a long, backward step."

"Constitutional majorities have spoken and national prohibition has been repealed," he said. "We readily concede that the liquor forces have won a great victory. However, we are greatly grieved for we feel that the nation has taken a long, long backward step, a step which means the re-establishment of the old-time legalized liquor traffic, with all of its train of evils, the saloon, crime, debauchery, political corruption. We are truly proud that Georgia had no part in the miserable business."

"However, the loss of the eighteenth amendment does not mean that all is lost, or that the country has gone to the bow-wow. There are multiplied millions of good people all over the country who believe in abstinence and prohibition, and that the only ultimate solution of the liquor problem is the complete suppression of liquor; and in the end their ideas are sure to prevail. Then also many states and counties and cities have their own regulatory and prohibitory laws; and these still remain."

"Prohibitionists will now need to be more active than ever before. In Georgia we have our own state prohibition law to preserve and defend; the next attack of the liquor forces is to be upon it. And then we need to begin a thorough-going campaign of education, especially among our younger people, showing the evil of intoxicating liquor and of the liquor traffic as shown through the long centuries of human experience."

Plans To Be Speeded For F. D. R. Reception

Detailed plans for the reception of President Franklin D. Roosevelt in Atlanta will be put under way just as soon as the president definitely announces his choice between November 22 and December 2 as the day for his visit here, it was said Thursday by Mayor James L. Key, known as the "Mayor of the South."

General plans for the president's visit will be launched immediately, but completion of the details must necessarily await the president's pleasure as to the definite date, it was said. The plans include the dedication of the new $5,000,000 postoffice building, which is practically completed. The visit of the president to Atlanta will be his first since his campaign address here. Most of his time in Georgia will be spent at Warm Springs.

MRS. PEGGY STILL TOOK 'QUEER' NOTE FOR LADIES' WEAR

Clifford P. Simpkins, of 732 Julian street, was indicted by the federal grand jury Thursday on a charge of passing a counterfeit five-dollar bill on September 15 last on Mrs. Peggy Still, of Savannah, when the latter pays a call to that city on November 18.

Assurance of the president's intention to visit Atlanta on one of the two mentioned dates was given Wednesday by L. W. (Chip) Robert Jr., assistant secretary of the treasury.

General plans for the president's visit will be launched immediately, but completion of the details must necessarily await the president's pleasure as to the definite date, it was said. The plans include the dedication of the new $5,000,000 postoffice building, which is practically completed. The visit of the president to Atlanta will be his first since his campaign address here. Most of his time in Georgia will be spent at Warm Springs.

Mrs. Still was then a clerk at a Peachtree shop. Simpkins, who was described to the grand jury as a rosy young man with an elaborate tattoo on his hairy arm, visited the shop, according to the evidence, and amazed the young women in the place by asking for a foundation garment.

It was produced for him, and the indictment, he tendered Mrs. Still a counterfeit $5 bill. The bill was crudely designed with green crayon, and bore an aborted likeness of Abraham Lincoln.

Simpkins was indicted on another count for trying to pass a $5 counterfeit bill on a Marietta street pharmacy. Another indictment was returned against John A. McKinnier, who was charged with passing a counterfeit bill on Simpkins; John Murphy and O. B. Shedd, of Rome, were indicted for possessing and passing counterfeit silver coins.

The grand jury returned 11 true bills in all, most of which were for narcotic violations.

AGNES SCOTT IS GIVEN NEW MUSIC EQUIPMENT

The music department of Agnes Scott College has been awarded $2,500 in music equipment by the Carnegie Foundation. Dr. J. R. McCain, president, announced. This is the third unusual recognition given the department in the last four years. The Carnegie Foundation gave the college $45,000 in 1931 for a new musical building and the general education board gave $32,500 for the same purpose in addition to money for scholarship aid.

The new equipment consists of 824 records, 136 albums, an oak cabinet to contain the albums, one Caprice electric phonograph with automatic record changer and book of directions, 251 scores in miniature, large and sheet music size; three steel cabinets to hold the scores; and 129 volumes of books and music. The new equipment is to be placed in a room in Rebecca Scott hall.

CREDIT MEN HEAR DR. M. ASHBY JONES

Dr. M. Ashby Jones, well-known minister, was principal speaker at the monthly dinner of the Atlanta Association of Credit Men at the Atlanta Athletic Club on Thursday evening.

Also on the program were Mrs. W. P. Higginbotham, who sang, and Miss Morene Moody, who gave a humorous reading. Robert H. Myddleton was accompanist.

Today is Poppy Day. It is the day on which the American Legion and allied organizations and Atlanta, Georgians and citizens of the nation to remember the appalling price of victory.

It is dedicated to the aid of those who still bear the marks of the ruthless and gory conflict. It is for the purpose of remembering the families of those who will suffer unless generous contributions are made to relieve distress caused by wounds received in service.

Mrs. Arthur Hazzard is chairman of the drive and is being assisted by Arthur Garner, chairman of Atlanta Post No. 1, of the Legion. Scores of Atlanta's fairest set will offer the poppies for sale at points of vantage throughout the city today. The poppies will be red.

ST. PAUL, Nov. 9.—(AP)—Dr. W. H. Hedberg, St. Paul chiropractor, was free today of a charge with intent to kill Dr. E. J. Engberg, St. Paul physician and secretary of the Minnesota State Board of Medical Examiners. He was acquitted last night by a jury in district court.

ATLANTAN NAMED HEAD OF CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE
MACON, Ga., Nov. 9.—(AP)—J. W. Pickett, Atlanta layman, today was elected business manager of the Christian Advocate, official publication of the North and South Georgia conferences of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South.
The trustees of the publication previously had selected Dr. William T. Watkins, of Emory University, as editor.
They extended an invitation to the Florida conference to join the two Georgia conferences in publication of the paper. The trustees said such action would aid them in enlarging it materially.

Timely Recipes for the Fall Months That Will Appeal to the Entire Family.

THANKSGIVING!

Through the years certain traditions have grown up around the Thanksgiving feast. To be really authentic turkey should form the center of the menu. Turkey, golden brown, with its crisp skin covering, tender, succulent meat. Turkey filled with "stuffing" rich in sage, onions, chestnuts or oysters! Then, of course, there should be cranberry jelly, sweet and Irish potatoes, a green vegetable, a salad and final touch—mince or pumpkin pie.

SOME GOOD THINGS FOR THE HOLIDAYS
With these foods as a sort of basis for the arrangement of your menu, you may prove your versatility by introducing the dishes served in new and different guises, while still keeping to the tradition of the Thanksgiving dinner.

Usually Thanksgiving means guests and guests mean extra preparation, extra care that everything should be at its best. And in order to accomplish this happy end it's absolutely essential that the day should be planned—from start to finish. A week before the wise hostess will get through her linen supply and see that the best damask cloth is fresh and clean, the napkins, counted, folded and in order. She will count her silver and see that it is polished. Goblets should be counted so that any additions may be made in a leisurely way. The day before flowers should be ordered. And the day before that market lists made out and checked against supplies on hand.

There are so many items that go to make up the menu that may be prepared beforehand so that they may be prepared and put away in a bowl in the refrigerator. Gables may be cooked and ground so that they may be added to the gravy at the last minute. Molded salads are easily prepared in advance. Pies may be made—and, if mince pie, is your choice for dessert, that may be popped into the oven and heated just before serving. Pumpkin pie is better baked just long enough before dinner to allow for cooling.

BE ON THE LOOKOUT FOR SALLY SAYER'S FIFTH SEMI-ANNUAL COOK BOOK.

On Tuesday, November 28, The Constitution will publish Sally Saver's fifth semi-annual cook book which will be the biggest and best of all. It will contain many helpful hints for home makers and will also give Sally Saver's new budget plan idea.

It will be replete with the newest recipes especially adaptable for the fall and winter season. It will be a valuable addition to your kitchen. Look for it with your regular copy of The Constitution Tuesday morning, November 28.

Celery may be cut and cleaned and wrapped with lettuce leaves in a moist cloth. Then in the morning you will be ready to stuff the turkey—but it is to roasting and clear the decks for the preparation of potatoes and green vegetables. It's not difficult, really, when you plan ahead. The menu for a typical Thanksgiving dinner follows:

Fruit Cup. Celery Curds, Olives, Pearl Onions, Roast Turkey with Dressing, Mashed Potatoes, Cranberry Jelly, Finger Rolls, Mince Pie.

Fruit Cup. Peel and remove segments of oranges, seed and halve green grapes, peel and remove segments of grapefruit, dice bananas and combine. Let stand in refrigerator until thoroughly chilled and serve in glass cups with mint leaves.

Oyster Dressing for Turkey. Four cups bread (softened), 3 tablespoons melted butter, onion juice, 2 tablespoons poultry seasoning, red pepper, 1-2 dozen oysters and liquid. Mix the bread after it has been softened in water and lightly squeezed out with melted butter. Season to taste, being sure to add a dash of red pepper. Add the oysters and use enough of the liquid to make the dressing the proper consistency.

Caramelized Sweet Potatoes. One dozen small sweet potatoes boiled until tender. Peel and cut in halves and arrange in shallow baking dish. Boil one cup of water and one pint of brown sugar together for 10 minutes, then add one tablespoon butter. Sprinkle salt and cinnamon over the potatoes then pour the syrup over and bake in a moderate oven until brown.

Cauliflower. Drain a cooked cauliflower; separate into flowerets and pour over the following sauce: Mix the yolks of two eggs, 1-4 cup cream, 1-2 tespoon salt, 1-8 teaspoon nutmeg and juice of 1-2 lemon. Cook in double boiler, stirring constantly until mixture thickens. Add 2 tablespoons butter, bit by bit, and when melted serve at once.

Holiday Salad. First layer: One tablespoon gelatin; 1-3 cup cold water; 1 cup seasoned strained tomato juice. Second layer: One tablespoon unflavored gelatin; 1-3 cup cold water; 1 cup boiling water; 2 tablespoons vinegar or lemon juice; 1 tablespoon sugar; 1-2 teaspoon salt; 1 cup finely shredded cabbage; 1-4 cup finely shredded green pepper; 1-2 cup finely cut celery.

Soak the gelatin for the first layer in cold water five minutes. Add seasoned tomato juice puree, and stir until mixed. Pour into a small square or loaf pan and chill until firm. Pour over this second layer, made as follows: Soak the gelatin in cold water five minutes, add the boiling water and stir until mixed. Season with salt, vinegar or lemon juice, sugar and salt. Cool, add the shredded cabbage, pepper and celery. Pour over the tomato mixture. Chill until both layers are firm. Cut into squares and serve on lettuce leaves with mayonnaise.

Finger Rolls. Six to 6-12 cups flour, sifted; 2 cakes compressed yeast, 2 cups milk, scalded and cooled; 3 teaspoons salt, 1-4 cup shortening, 1-4 cup sugar, 2 eggs.

Dissolve yeast in lukewarm milk and stir well. Add sugar, beaten eggs, salt and half the flour. Mix well and add the melted butter. Beat and add balance of flour or enough to make a soft dough. Turn out on floured board and knead into a smooth dough. Place in a greased bowl. Cover, let rise to double bulk. Knead and let rise 45 minutes. Pinch off pieces of dough size of small egg. Roll until chilled and serve in glass cups with mint leaves.

Stone Jar Molasses Cookies. Two and one-fourth cups sifted flour, 1 teaspoon baking powder, 1-2 teaspoon ginger, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 cup molasses, 1-2 cup butter or other shortening, 2 teaspoons soda.

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder, ginger and salt, and sift again. Heat molasses, remove from fire; add shortening and soda. Add sugar gradually. Chill. Roll very thin on slightly floured board. Cut with floured cookie cutter. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 10 minutes. Remove from pan carefully. Cool. Store in stone jar. Makes 3-12 dozen cookies.

Vanilla Nut Ice Box Cookies. Four cups sifted flour, 3 teaspoons baking powder, 1-4 teaspoon salt, 1 cup butter or other shortening, 1 cup sifted brown sugar, 2 cups granulated sugar, 2 eggs, well beaten; 1 cup nuts, coarsely chopped; 1 tablespoon vanilla.

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt, and sift again. Cream butter thoroughly, add sugars gradually, and cream well. Add eggs, nuts, and vanilla. Add flour gradually. Shape into rolls 1-2 inches in diameter. Let stand in ice box over night or until hard enough to slice. Cut into thin slices. Bake in hot oven (425 degrees F.) 10 minutes. Makes 6 dozen.

Custard Cream Cake (4 Eggs). Three and one-half cups sifted cake flour, 3 teaspoons baking powder, 1 cup butter or other shortening, 2 cups sugar, 4 egg yolks, well beaten; 1 cup milk, 1-2 teaspoon vanilla, 4 egg whites, stiffly beaten.

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder, and sift together three times. Cream butter thoroughly, add sugar gradually, and cream together until light and fluffy. Add egg yolks. Add flour, alternately with milk, a small amount at a time. Beat after each addition until smooth. Add vanilla; fold in egg whites. Bake in three greased 9-inch layer pans in moderate oven (375 degrees F.). Put layer together with custard cream filling and cover cake with orange frosting.

HOW TO VARY THE SMALL CHILD'S EVENING MEAL. ARRANGE SUPPER SO THEY MAY EAT AHEAD OF THE FAMILY. AVOID MONOTONY OF DISHES BY PLANNING MEALS AHEAD.

The Cereal Meal. Children of the preschool age, from three years of age to six, are often poorly nourished because they do not get the maximum benefit nutritionally from their evening meal. It is too likely that this important meal will be quite unceremoniously served and rushed through in order that the youngster may be tucked in bed before the rest of the family is ready for dinner.

The children's supper should be planned a week at a time. This will permit variety, and will avoid the constant worry about "what to serve today." This supper should really have nothing whatever to do with the grown people's dinner, and should not even be served at the same time if possible to arrange otherwise. Even the best trained children want to eat what they see on other people's plates.

The Carbohydrate Meal.
The evening meal should be very light in character, easily digested and quickly assimilated. The carbohydrate foods are ideal for it. Let us see what such foods are.

First of all potatoes. The very best kind of an evening meal for the preschool child is a baked potato, seasoned with thin cream and a little salt; a glass of milk, a graham cracker or two and a light gelatin dessert, or some fruit such as applesauce.

The baked potato meal may be varied by serving a thin potato soup, generously sprinkled with a little very finely minced parsley. This soup should be made with whole milk, a little salt, and some mashed or ricied potato. A tiny bit of onion for flavoring may gradually be added as the child's taste permits it. Serve crackers with it, and a rice pudding with raisins.

Plain boiled potatoes may be roughly chopped and seasoned with cream and salt. The use of cream will be found more advantageous at night, because it stimulates bowel action toward morning, and because it does not delay digestion of the starchy foods so long as butter would.

Other carbohydrate foods are useful. These may be selected from various cream soups seasoned with strained or sieved vegetables, such as spinach, asparagus, pea, bean, carrot, etc. Milk may be selected from various cream soups seasoned with strained or sieved vegetables, such as spinach, asparagus, pea, bean, carrot, etc.

To vary the monotony of baked potato or soup, a cereal meal may be included once or twice a week. The cereal should be cooked, and served hot. Or try steamed rice, with milk and raisins. Oatmeal bread is substantial and appetizing and really furnishes a good meal. A good vegetable soup, with plenty of well-cooked barley in it, is also welcomed as a change.

Cereals when cold may be sweetened and seasoned with chopped dried fruits such as prunes, apricots, and raisins, and then molded into fancy pudding mold shapes. These are to be served with cream and sugar for dessert, after a nice hot soup has been eaten. To provide chewing material with these meals, use dry toast, and hard crackers.

Try some of these recipes which are made up with the preschool child in mind.

FARINA CUSTARD. One cup cooked farina, 1-2 cups milk, 2 beaten eggs, 1-2 cup sugar, 1-2 teaspoon vanilla, 1-4 cup chopped prunes, cooked or raw.

Combine ingredients, pour the mixture into a buttered baking dish and bake one-half hour in moderate oven. Serve hot or cold with cream.

CEREAL DUMPLINGS FOR SOUP. One cup corn meal, 1 teaspoon salt, 4 teaspoons baking powder, 1 cup whole wheat flour, 1 tablespoon butter, 1 cup milk.

Sift corn meal, salt and baking powder onto the whole wheat flour, stirring, then add the melted butter and the milk and mix to a soft dough constency. Drop by spoonfuls into boiling hot soup, cook 10 minutes with cover off the pot, then 10 minutes with cover on.

CEREAL SOUP. To 2 cups plain broth or cream soup add 2 tablespoons cereal such as a farina or other fine cereal. Cook until done, then serve with finely chopped parsley.

SPECIAL BREAD FOR CHILDREN
Two cups cooked warm wheat cereal, 1 teaspoon salt, 1-4 cup brown sugar, 1 tablespoon butter, 1-2 yeast cake, 2 cups whole wheat flour, 2 cups graham flour, 1 cup seeded raisins, 1 cup stoned dates, 1-2 cup milk. Mix cereal, salt, sugar and shortening. Scald milk, cool till lukewarm, mix the yeast with it. Add to cereal mixture, which must be as cool as the milk mixture. Add about 3 cups of the flour, place the other cup on the molding board, turn dough onto it, and knead till all the flour has been absorbed or worked in.

Put the dough into a greased bowl, set in a warm place to rise until double in bulk. Cut down and knead again, adding the raisins and dates cut small and folded.

Shape into loaves, place in two greased bread pans. Let stand till light and well risen a second time. Bake in moderate 350-degree oven for 45 minutes. Do not cut or serve until at least one-day old. This is a very substantial and nutritious type of bread.

Negro Killed by Blast.
One negro was burned to death and another was injured Thursday when a lamp in their room at 970 Veto street exploded. The dead man, Arthur Moten, 70, tried to toss the flaming lamp out of the window, but the fire caught his clothing and spread over his entire body, it was said. Anderson Patton is in a serious condition as the result of burns.

VANDERLIP LAUDS GOLD BUYING PLAN

Program Will Prove Boon to Mankind, New York
Financier Declares.

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—(AP)—President Roosevelt's gold purchasing plan was endorsed tonight by Frank A. Vanderlip, former president of the New York Clearing House Association and widely known financial authority, as one that may prove to be "a boon to mankind."

Declaring the "classical economic theory of the gold standard" has collapsed, Vanderlip said that even if the president is "tinkering with the currency" he is doing something "less dangerous than continuing under the evils of the old order."

"The plan for a commodity dollar," he said, "rests on the theory that if the number of grains of gold obtainable for a paper dollar is decreased, prices will rise; if increased, prices will fall."

SCOUT GROUP TO AID IN CHEST CAMPAIGN

For the first time in the history of the Community Chest in Atlanta, the Boy Scouts of America, one of the agencies in the Atlanta Community Chest, will have an entire division with its own leaders in the Community Chest drive, starting November 14.

There will be approximately 150 in the Boy Scout division. The colonel is W. A. Dobson, local Scout executive. Majors of the three zones are Hal Hentz, past president of the Atlanta council, with Roy Almond, retail manager of Beck & Grege, as co-major; T. T. Flieger, member of the Atlanta council executive board, with C. P. Roberts, scoutmaster of Troop 57, co-major; and A. F. Lively, of the General Electric Company, with A. E. Hahn, past president of the Southland, co-major.

Boy Scout leaders will also serve as captains. Under Major Hentz and Co-Major Almond are Captains L. E. Mansfield, member of executive board; C. F. Spangh, field scout commissioner; Dr. Frank Lamons, scoutmaster; Otis A. Barge, member of court of honor; Charles Soutter, chairman of troop committee; G. B. Spearman, scoutmaster, and Paul McDonald, scoutmaster.

Under Major Lively and Co-Major Roberts are Captains J. J. Jones, of the General Electric Company; A. B. Carver, of the Coca-Cola Company; H. A. Knapp, troop committee chairman, of the city construction department; Henry Woodward and F. M. Hatcher, manufacturer's agent.

300 Atlanta Women Leaders Map Plans For Concerted Community Chest Drive

Women leaders in the Atlanta Community Chest campaign who met with 300 guests at the residence of Mrs. Preston Arkwright, chairman of the woman's division, to lay plans for a concerted drive for the relief of the needy. Left to right, Mrs. Oscar Palmour, chairman of individual gifts committee; Mrs. Arkwright, Mrs. Eugene Harrington, co-chairman of individual gifts, and Mrs. William Huger. Staff photo by George Cornett.

Approximately 300 prominent Atlanta Community Chest leaders and women workers met Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Preston Arkwright, chairman of the woman's division of the campaign, where plans were made for setting aside other affairs to devote their efforts to the one task of carrying their assignment in the Community Chest campaign to a successful conclusion.

The unselfish interest of the workers was roundly praised by various Chest leaders who attended the meeting, including Frank Neely, president of the Community Chest. Dr. Herman L. Turner, Mrs. Oscar Palmour, chairman of individual gifts; Mrs. Eugene Harrington, co-chairman, and Herbert Foster, general manager of the Georgian and chairman of the Chest campaign.

Atlanta, as a body, were urged to pull together this year as never before, the speakers laying stress on the necessity for reaching a larger number of gifts this year because of the gifts of many being necessarily smaller.

The very fact that circumstances are such that many cannot contribute as generously as heretofore was cited as the reason for the drive.

Court Refuses Return Of Slayer to Greece

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—(UP)—A request by Greek authorities for extradition of an alleged murderer was refused today by a New York magistrate, after defense counsel had hinted at Greece's action in refusing to surrender Samuel Insull to American justice.

The defendant was James Nokes, 30, accused of having escaped from Greece after conviction on a charge of murder. Nokes was arrested here on a charge of burglary, following which Greece asked for his extradition. Magistrate McGee, ignoring the request, held him in $2,500 bail on a larceny charge.

ATLANTA COMPANIES GIVEN TVA ORDERS

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 9.—(AP)—The Tennessee Valley Authority announced today it had placed orders for beds, bedding and chairs for workers' bunkhouses at Norris Dam, totaling $7,800, to New York, Atlanta and Knoxville firms. The orders included: American Woollen Company, New York, blankets $2,600, and Southern Spring Bed Company, Atlanta, beds $1,300. Mixer & Company, Atlanta, was given an order for $400 worth of lumber.

TARKINGTON, TIBBETT GIVEN HIGH HONORS

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—(AP)—For outstanding achievement in fiction, Booth Tarkington today was presented with the gold medal given only once every eight years by the National Institute of Arts and Letters. Lawrence Tibbett received the American Academy of Arts and Letters award for the best stage direction, and James Willington for the best radio direction.

15-Year Terms Dealt To Slayers of Inukai

YOKOSUKA, Japan, Nov. 9.—(AP)—The most sensational court-martial in Japan's history, was concluded today with the sentencing of 10 men whose atrocious exploits on the night of May 15, 1932, ended in the assassination of Premier Suoyoshi Inukai.

The sentences were far lighter than the prosecutor demanded, lighter even than the public generally expected. The six men participating in the slaying of Inukai must serve terms ranging from 10 to 15 years in prison. Four others, not direct participants in the assassination, were given suspended sentences.

TWO CUBAN FLIERS ARE RESCUED AT SEA

BOCA GRANDE, Fla., Nov. 9.—(AP)—Two Cuban aviators, who tried to take part in the counter revolution against the present government of the island republic and were forced to attempt a flight to the United States to escape capture, were here today after having been rescued at sea.

They were Lieutenant Aristides Agüero and Ramon Hernandez, a mechanic. They were landed here last night by the steamer Western Sword which rescued them about 60 miles north of Key West, after their plane ran out of gasoline.

Throat of Atlantan Is Removed In Successful Cancer Operation

Cancer developed in the throat of Clarence H. Pittman, of 177 Elizabeth street, building contractor, to the extent that his physician gave him six months to live. Today, thanks to a startling new operation which had been performed only two previous times in the south, he faces many more years of life, it was revealed.

FORD OWNERS SHOULD READ THIS

Your car is an investment in convenient transportation. Yet, not even a Ford can give you perfect winter performance unless you protect it against freezing and rust.

Boil-away anti-freezes evaporate during warm spells and leave your car unprotected. Refills are frequent. Tests show many so-called "permanent" anti-freezes break down and cause rust.

At $2.95 a gallon, Eveready Prestone is your most economical buy. One filling lasts all winter—25,000 or more miles of safe, rust-free service. The V-8 takes 2 gallons for protection to zero. All other Fords need only 1 gallon for protection to zero. For other makes, see your dealer's chart.

Eveready Prestone is approved by all car manufacturers. Fully guaranteed by National Carbon Company, Inc., New York, N. Y.

*Based on an average of 20 years, the first freezing weather hits Atlanta by Nov. 13. Put in Eveready Prestone now—and be safe.—(adv.)

Thursday as preparations were being made to bring Mr. Pittman before a staff meeting of Crawford W. Long hospital Tuesday night.

Going into the throat in an operation described by surgeons as one of the most trying and difficult in their experience, requiring three hours, the knives and other tools of the doctors removed every part of the throat under the tongue and above the chest, with the exception of the jugular veins and gave Mr. Pittman an opening in his chest through which to breathe, it was said.

Anyone wishing copies of these specifications may have them by mail upon calling the county health department.

HERTY GIVES HISTORY OF CHEMICAL GRANTS

From $105,000 to $142,000 Awarded for Paper Experiments, Inventor Says.

Gifts by the Chemical Foundation sufficient to insure operation of the paper pulp laboratory at Savannah for the next two and possibly three years Thursday were traced back by Dr. Charles Herty, noted inventor and director of the laboratory, on a visit to Atlanta, to the seizure by the United States government of 5,000 German patents under the trading-with-the-enemy act.

The Foundation has agreed to give $65,000 beginning November 1 for a year's operation, and $37,000 for the second year's operation of the plant, with the provision that another $37,000 will be made available if a third year is found necessary for the experiments, Dr. Herty said. This is in addition to the original grant of $50,000, and subsequent gifts of $7,000 and $5,000.

"The Chemical Foundation was organized in February, 1919, by authority of President Wilson, to take over at an agreed price 5,000 German patents seized by the government as authorized by congress in order that through the patents the country might be made independent of foreign sources of chemical supplies, and that the grip of the German chemical industry on the United States might be broken," Dr. Herty said.

"The Foundation, under its charter, is a non-profit organization, no stock, preferred or common, paying over 6 per cent interest. Officers serve without pay. The president is Francis P. Garvan, who was alien property custodian under Wilson. The Foundation must lease the right to operate under the patents under equal terms to any American manufacturer, and from these leases and from small royalties paid by the manufacturers its sole income is derived.

"All profits over 6 per cent must be given away to research and education in chemistry and allied sciences as applied to industry. The Foundation has no assets other than its patents. During its 15 years of existence, it has never paid dividends, not even the 6 per cent interest.

"Through gifts it stimulates scientific work in many fields, and enables the full publication of scientific papers. It distributes popular books on chemistry to educate the people of the United States as to the part chemistry plays in the national life, to stimulate research, especially in matters pertaining to health.

AUTUMN LEAVES.

Yesterday we talked at random about leaves and their peculiarities at this time of year without offering anything authoritative on the subject. However, deep conferences with textbooks of organic chemistry and the notes I made in college on that subject years ago reveal the fact that a great deal of the beauty of autumn leaves has yielded its secrets to the prying minds of chemists. We are correct in saying that leaves fall because there is a physiological necessity for the plant's shedding the huge surfaces for evaporating moisture. It seems that at the base of the leaf petiole, two surfaces become hardened and permit no passage of water; between these surfaces the split occurs that lets the leaf become a passenger on the most adjacent breeze. So much for the mechanism of the deciduous trees.

Here are some of the points gathered from random points about the colors of the leaves. With characteristic procedure, the chemists have divided the pigments of autumn leaves into classes. We were further correct in our statement yesterday when we said that the disintegration of chlorophyll, the green matter of the leaves, was responsible for the various pigments. The primary pigment which is operative in hickories and certain of the maples is xanthophyll, a brilliant yellow. Those approaching orange are the carotoids, "exemplified by the yellowish pigments of the common carrot." The quotation is from Dr. D. T. MacDougal's book entitled "The Green Leaf," which you will find, as I did, in the Carnegie Library.

This author also goes on to state that the presence of sugars in inactive leaves is responsible for the formation of anthocyanins, which despite their names that twist the tongue and for that reason are not mentioned here, give us the reds and blues that make an autumn landscape the most completely dazzling thing in nature. Oxidases, which are simply compounds assisting in rapid oxidation of the chlorophyll, are the agents which produce the more peaceful tones of brown. Someone looked over my shoulder at sentence before last, taking it and myself by surprise by saying, "Blue in autumn leaves! Who ever heard of that?"

"I have, my friend," I said in return "and what is more, I have seen it."

Instead of enjoying the massed effect of color, get a few leaves and examine them closely. Pay attention to the veins, too. You will find wonderful shades of violet and red that will delight the eye. Blue pigment may be hard to find in isolated spots, but in combination with the reds, through an interference, there are produced the various carmines and other combinations of red and blue that are the secrets even yet of the famous chemists that devised plant physiology in the beginning.

Michigan Drys Form New Prohibition Party

LANSING, Mich., Nov. 9.—(AP)—Michigan, first of the repeal states, was held up by a group of prohibitionists today as the birthplace of a new political party and a rallying point for a renewed onslaught against liquor.

Designed for ultimate national proportions, the new organization has been christened the commonwealth party. Its leaders assert that already organization work is being carried on in California, Tennessee, Connecticut and Ohio, with other states expected to follow.

Howard L. Holmes, of Lansing, an active worker for prohibition since the nineties, is chairman of the parent organization. He says the commonwealth party is an outgrowth of the old prohibition party, but is built on "broader and stronger" lines.

The announcement of the ward was made by Miss Eleanor Hamilton, of Dutton, Ga., editor-in-chief of the Silhouette for 1934, in chapel. Miss Caroline Lingle was editor-in-chief of the Silhouette for 1933, and Miss Julie Bertha was business manager. Miss Penelope Brown and Miss Betty Peeples edited and managed the annual for 1932, while Miss Shirley McPhaul was editor-in-chief for 1931, and Miss Martha Tower was business manager.

SOLICITOR TO SPEAK ON GRAND JURY TOPIC

Henry H. West, solicitor-general of the western circuit, Athens, will speak on the subject, "The Solicitor-General's Relation to the Grand Jury," at the monthly meeting of the Association of Grand Jurors of Fulton county at 8 o'clock tonight at the Piedmont hotel. Judge R. N. Harde-man, of Louisville, presiding in Fulton superior court for Judge G. H. Howard, and J. H. Ewing will make short talks.

P. C. McDuffie, counsel for the association, will entertain at dinner at his home in Mr. West's honor prior to the meeting. Ivan E. Allen, Franklin B. ATLANTAN, INJURED IN CRASH, IMPROVES Improvement in the condition of Mrs. Wray Smith, of Atlanta, and her sister-in-law, Miss Zenith Smith, who were injured Wednesday when their car overturned near Milledgeville, while they were en route to Wadley, was reported Thursday by physicians at the hospital in Milledgeville. Miss Dolly Smith, another sister-in-law of Mrs. Smith, was reported in fair condition.

Mrs. Smith is the wife of the air pilot for the Wofford Oil Company, who is at his wife's bedside in Milledgeville. Physicians said that Mrs. Smith and Miss Zenith Smith have begun to rally from unconsciousness, and that hopes for their recovery are stronger. The Smiths live at 606 Moreland avenue, N. E.

Gang Foreman-Father Returns Escaped Son

Duty clashed with filial love and won a victory Thursday when J. D. Glisson, gang foreman at North camp, returned his 17-year-old son, Carl Glisson, to Ben Hill camp, from which the younger Glisson escaped Tuesday afternoon, making his getaway in an automobile owned by Bill Bolton, Ben Hill blacksmith.

Glisson escorted his son back to the convict camp when he showed up at his home on House road. The car in which the lad escaped was found in Cochran Bottoms, where he had abandoned it before going home.

The boy was serving a 2-to-4-year term for burglary and was sent to the camp last July.

FEELS YEARS YOUNGER!

Look at him! Used to be so grouchy... now he's the liveliest fellow in the crowd

You never saw such an improvement in anyone. He used to be so irritable his own family wondered how they could stand it. And naturally! For he felt himself slipping. Achy, peevish, he simply couldn't figure out what was wrong. Yet in a few weeks he shook off years. Now he feels and looks like a new man.

What was wrong with him? And with millions like him—dragging along only half-alive—wondering, worrying? The answer is simple.

It's ASTHENIA

(Run-down condition, usually caused by Constipation)

That's the insidious thing about Asthenia... it drags you down, slows your mind, robs you of your joys and pleasures, yet you hardly realize you're slipping.

Would you like for once to brush the cobwebs from your eyes—be ready and eager for any task—experience all the glories of this glorious old world? Then rid yourself of Asthenia and stay rid of it.

You think that you're not the least bit clogged—you say that you're "regular" as can be—but physicians will tell you that it is only too easy to deceive yourself in this respect and stay clogged with poisons. Thus millions of micro organisms accumulate in

Court Refuses Return Of Confiscated Beer

LAFAYETTE, Ga., Nov. 9.—(AP)—J. D. Lewis and C. L. Ridley, of Jacksonville, lost an effort in Walker county superior court to recover 100 cases of beer which was confiscated by Sheriff J. C. Keown last June.

They contended the beer was bought in Chattanooga and was being taken to Florida and that under interstate law it was not illegal to transport beer from a wet state through dry territory to another wet state.

Sheriff Keown said the truck in which the beer was being hauled bore a Georgia license and that Lewis told him it was owned by a relative of his at Macon.

Officials have advised the board they would come here for the day. Senator Russell and Governor Talmadge will speak from the same platform but at different hours. The senator will deliver an "Armistice Day" address at 11:30 a. m. He had intended to speak on Saturday, November 11, Armistice Day, but a previous engagement in north Georgia caused a change in plans. Governor Talmadge will deliver his address at 4 p. m.

Tomorrow's program includes a football game between the Blackshear High school and the Willacoochee High school.

Hazlehurst, Ga., Nov. 9.—(AP)—Citizens of this section are preparing an entertainment for Governor Eugene Talmadge, his official staff and other guests on Saturday when the governor arrives here to deliver an Armistice Day address.

Eight booths are being constructed around the courthouse from which barbeque will be served visitors. Merchants are decorating business houses and a reception committee headed by Dr. W. H. Powell is making plans for entertaining the governor and his staff. School children of the county will participate in a parade. The 121st infantry band will furnish music for the celebration.

OVER MILLION BALES FORECAST FOR STATE

Crop Reporting Service Figures
35,000 Bales Higher
Since October 1.

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 8.—(AP)—Georgia's cotton crop is indicated at about 1,105,000 bales, 35,000 bales higher on November 1 than forecast October 1, the Georgia crop reporting service said today in an official report.

Indicated yield of lint cotton per acre on the 2,150,000 acres estimated in the harvest, the report said, should approximate 246 pounds compared with 154 last year, 215 in 1931 and 111 in 1930. The estimated average for harvest makes allowance for the 605,000 acres destroyed under government contract plus reported abandonment after July.

Despite the decrease of 19 per cent in acreage from last year, production bids fair to show a gain of 29 per cent over the final output of 854,000 standard bales for 1932.

Weather during practically all of October was favorable for picking with the exception of some rain in the third week. On November 1 there was very little cotton left in the field and mostly late scattered bolls in the northern part of the state.

Advancement of harvesting operations throughout the season has been ahead of any year since the exceptionally early season of 1927 and with favorable weather prevailing most of the time quality of cotton harvested is reported good.

Indicated production in the northern part of the state shows a 9 per cent increase over last year. An increase of 33 per cent is indicated in the mid-state area while southern territory produced about 59 per cent more than in 1932.

COLUMBUS LOANS REFUSED BY BOARD

Security Offered for Public Works Money
Held Not Satisfactory.

COLUMBUS, Ga., Nov. 9.—(AP)—The Muscogee county school board and the city of Columbus have been advised by the Georgia public works board that security offered for federal loans they sought in building programs is unsatisfactory.

The city applied for a loan of about $250,000 for finance erection of a new fire headquarters station and for remodeling the municipal building for police headquarters. The Muscogee school board asked for a loan of $75,000 for a school building program.

In both instances the public works board suggested that bonds be offered as security. The school board instructed withdrawal of the loan application and requested that a canvass be made to determine the percentage of the citizens and voters desire an election to pass on the question of issuing bonds for proposed improvements.

The city already has a bonded indebtedness of 7 per cent of the property tax valuations, the limit it may contract for under the state constitution.

J. Houston Johnston, state engineer of the Georgia advisory board of the public works administration, advised City Manager Marshall Morton that the only plan for loans that has received favorable consideration so far provide loans secured by general obligation bonds, or by reimbursement certificates of the state highway board.

"We have been instructed not to forward to Washington applications in which the security offered did not meet the requirements," his letter said. "There is some confusion in regard to the situation in Georgia by which a satisfactory sale and loan plan would be arranged, but we have been instructed that this plan cannot be used. We have held a large number of these applications in hopes that some plan would be worked out by which applications of that kind could be considered."

"This letter is written under instructions of the state advisory board after a full discussion at a recent meeting. It is with much regret that it was found necessary to ask you to revise your application, but it was the feeling of the board that it would be wrong to submit applications to the administration without proper security."

CLARKE ASKED TO SUBMIT CHARTERS' MARKET PLANS
ATHENS, Ga., Nov. 9.—(AP)—Clarke county commissioners have been requested to submit a $250,000 self liquidating project for establishment of a grove near here, to the Georgia public works board.

T. J. Shackelford, Athens attorney, in presenting the plan, said farmers in the county have no market for their surplus products.

"We all know that diversification is a good thing," he told the commissioners, "but how can you expect a farmer to diversify his crops when he has no market for anything but cotton? The farmer who raises more squash, peanuts, wheat or anything else except cotton, than he can consume has no market for them. He hasn't even an exchange where he can secure things he needs in return for some of his surplus."

The proposal was taken under advisement by the commission and will be investigated.

ONE MAN CONVICTED IN LEE COUNTY KILLING

LEESBURG, Ga., Nov. 9.—(AP)—Howard Sumner was convicted today of killing Wade McElmurray, Lee county farmer.

Sumner was sentenced to serve from 10 to 15 years.

Those acquitted were Homer Ellis Roy Israel and L. J. Israel.

Sumner was pointed out by Mrs. McElmurray, widow of the slain man as the actual slayer. The defense, however, presented testimony in an effort to shift the blame to Leon Sumner, who has not been arrested.

Both state and defense agreed that the killing grew out of an argument which occurred when an automobile in which the defendants were riding damaged flowers in the McElmurray yard.

The state contended the death weapon was a metal bar, which was offered in evidence, but defense witnesses said the two blows alleged to have been inflicted on McElmurray were delivered with an ax.

I. C. C. EXAMINER URGES EXCESS RATES REFUND

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—(AP)—Examiner John McChord today recommended to the interstate commerce commission that it award $5,061 in reparations to Swift & Co., of Moultrie, Ga., because of alleged unreasonable rates charged on cattle in carloads from Fort Worth, Texas, to Moultrie over the Texas & Pacific railroad and others.

The shipments in question consisted of 88 carloads which were moved between May 28, 1931, and January 22, 1932. A combination rate of 77 cents a hundred pounds was charged. McChord proposed that 83 cents be found more reasonable and recommended reparations on that basis.

BARGAIN IN LOVE

BY JANE DIXON

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE:

Henry Hume, Sue Satty's employer, lately her along to help Mattie's father, a stonemason, when he goes to Paris on business, and Sue and Mattie are busy busy seeing nothing of the brilliant French capital. The first evening of the return voyage to New York aboard the Yonkers, Jeffrey Randall saves Sue from pitching overboard in a sudden storm. Confronting Sue in Jeff's presence, Mrs. Hume accuses her of being her husband's mistress in Paris. The next evening, with no demonstration of love, Jeff asks Sue to marry him, explaining that in seven days he will be 27 years old and if he is not married then he loses the Randall fortune to his cousin, Beatrice and Cyril, under the will of his Uncle Griswold (deceased). Sue agrees. She tells Jeff that her widowed mother, married Herman Henscher and that she has been sending every spare cent home to her mother, who will take Tommy, her younger brother, out of school and put him to work. Jeff witnesses Mr. Gifford, executor of the Randall estate, that he is bringing home a bride. Mattie agrees to remain with Sue and Jeff and "see it through." Jeff's cousin meet the boat, and cleverly forces Jeff and Sue to go to his town house, although Jeff had planned to hurry to the marriage license bureau. While Jeff is at Gifford's office the next day, Sue is knocked unconscious by a marble bust of Uncle Griswold, which mysteriously tumbled from a wall niche as she is descending the stairs. Margaret, the doctor, tells her that she is married. Sue begins to rue her bargain when Jeff informs her he has just learned Gifford must approve of his wife before he gets the Randall mansion. Jeff says he will go to Mexico, ostensibly to look after his mine, but really to get a divorce. When Sue returns from a visit to her home, she sees flying headlines screaming that Mrs. Hume is suing for divorce, naming her and suing her for alienation of affections. NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

dall's wife sued by a woman, some common creature no one ever heard of, sued for stealing the creature's husband. What shall we do? What can we do?

"We will do nothing," Sue stepping up the proem. "This is entirely my affair. I know nothing about it except what's appeared in a scandal sheet. I intend to learn all about it today. If there's anything you should know, I'll see that you're informed."

"Indeed you will!" Beatrice Randall's malice was like a dark haze enveloping her. "I'll make it my business to be informed. Randall does not permit his frame to be a target for public shame, without finding means to extricate it. You hear me, to extricate it!"

"I'm sure they do," Sue adjusted her hat. "You see I'm a Randall myself, so I know precisely how you feel."

"You a Randall?" Beatrice's scorn tore through high laughter. "Too bad Jeffrey was in such haste about Uncle Griswold's money wasn't it? Too bad Jeffrey didn't know about this Mr. Henry Hume. You've taken Jeff in—God knows how—but you're not taking in the rest of us. I demand to see Jeffrey. I've tried to reach him for two days. If he has any decency left, he'll see me, and he'll see Cyril."

"That's a matter for Mr. Randall to decide," Mathilda said, handing Sue her bag. "I'm afraid you'll have to excuse us. We were just going out."

"I wonder if you have the nerve to face people," Beatrice raged. "I'm sure I haven't, after that scurrilous story in the paper."

"You should be so sensitive," Miss Randall, Mathilda advised. She was a fairly good actress herself. She was life and leap of walks, from disgruntled ladies, from conviving relatives—just anything that bobs."

"Then you are a spy," Beatrice followed to the door. "Here to make trouble for us. You admit it. And you can tell Jeffrey Randall the whole matter of his marriage, including the part of this woman, is going to be sifted. Cyril and I intend to get the truth and to expose it."

"Cyril called yesterday—for Paris," Beatrice said significantly. "In the car. The torrent of Sue's emotions catching her momentarily."

sweeping her into its whirlpools and eddies:

"They'll do it, Mattie. They'll get trained investigators. They'll find out it was a hoax—our landing, my being in those rooms with Jeff—they'll scream it to the world—"

"Let 'em scream," Mathilda's matter-of-factness made Sue a little ashamed of screaming in cross-currents. "The joke will be on them. The money is Jeffrey's, you're regularly married and land landing party was just a prank the two of you decided to play on your august and too interested audience."

"You've forgotten about Gifford, the executor. You don't imagine he'll approve me—after this Hume scandal."

"No, I've not forgotten Gifford. I've given the old boy a great deal of important thought. He will not approve you. Not now. In fact, he has called you to his office to tell you he most thoroughly disapproves you. Dragging the Randall name through the muck of a divorce court—about the same line the lady cousin gave us. You'll have to listen to him meekly and courteously. Then proclaim your innocence."

"None of which will stop Gifford's disapproval."

"Not stop him, perhaps, but if you're good at handling the truth, it will slow him up. Then it will be up to you to prove to him that as a Randall's wife, you have merit."

"Does—Jeff know?" A sob in Sue's throat. Being reviled and crucified for something she had not done. Henry Hume's wife must be mad. Manias or devil—or both. An instrument of Fate? That's what Henry Hume's wife was. Instrument of Fate. And Fate was using the instrument to defeat Sue, to cheat her of her bargain, to punish her for her chicanery and her defiance.

"Jeffrey will know," Mathilda said. "I wired him in detail. Ought to reach him today or tomorrow. Evidently he neglected to leave his address with his noble cousin, so they won't be able to yell at him for a while. Gifford knows where he is, but Gifford's holding off until he talks with you."

"That's pretty decent of him."

"Yes, the old boy has his points. I've talked with Henry Hume."

"Mr. Hume? In New York? But why didn't he stop her—his wife—when he knows it's all a ghastly lie? Emotions churning again, flooding over the dam that stop something happening when it already had happened. Papers were served on him as he stepped off the ship. They took him by surprise. I'm going on to his office. You're to come there directly—you've finished with Gifford."

"Sue sat in Mr. Gifford's office, her nerves taut with the delicate, allusive story she had agreed to Mathilda's plan. After what seemed ages, she heard: "Gifford will see you now, Mrs. Randall."

TEXILE MINE MAP ARBITRATION RULES

Administrative Procedure Governing Working Conditions To Be Studied.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—(AP)—An attempt to perfect the administration of the cotton textile code and form rules for future arbitration will be made tomorrow at a conference of the industry's planning and supervisory committee with the cotton textile national industrial relations board.

"One of the major problems likely to be discussed is the cotton code, chairman of the industrial relations board, said tonight, 'will be that of developing rules of administrative procedure governing working conditions in the industry.'"

The cotton code, first to be adopted under the NRA program, recently was reported by George A. Sloan, chairman of the code committee, to have increased employment by 145,516 workers and monthly pay rolls from $12,800,000 in March to approximately $20,000,000 on September 1.

Among those expected to attend tomorrow's conference are: T. M. Marchant, the Victor-Monahan Company, Greenville, S. C.; W. D. Anderson, the Bibb Manufacturing Company, Macon, Ga.; C. C. CANAL ELECTRIFYING AT AUGUSTA APPROVED

AUGUSTA, Ga., Nov. 9.—(AP)—City council tonight authorized the Augusta canal commission to proceed with steps toward electrifying the Augusta canal.

Two ordinances adopted cleared the way for the building of a hydroelectric plant and a standby plant to cost $2,500,000. The commission has applied to the public works administration for the funds. Under an act creating the commission the city has the authority to issue bonds for the amount.

Cotton Mill Social 'Reformers' Assailed by Bishop Candler

COLUMBIA, S. C., Nov. 9.—(AP)—Bishop Warren A. Candler, of Atlanta, today assailed the cotton mill social "reformers" whose "talk comes from books" and the "commercial classes" who "play golf on Sunday."

Bishop Candler addressed the Upper South Carolina conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, over the nineteenth annual meeting of which he is presiding. After past reports he said:

"Reformers abuse the cotton mills. We want justice done them. They have schools and churches. Homes are better."

"The talk of reformers comes from books written by folks who never saw a cotton mill. They ought to quit abusing them until they know the facts."

"The mills and churches in South Carolina have done well."

A little later, the bishop said:

Dahlonega Entry Wins First Prize In Marie Dressler Tribute Contest

Poetic tributes to Marie Dressler, beloved movie star, whose characterizations have dispelled gloom and created joy for thousands upon thousands of persons, poured in upon The Constitution Thursday until the poetry editor had to call for help to open the envelopes. Out of the mass of poems submitted, the tribute by Margaret Meaders, of Dahlonega, stands out as first prize winner for the contest.

There are other days and other prizes in the contest, so don't hesitate to send in your contribution. If it wins one of the first prizes, it will be one of seven from among which winners will be selected to be sent to Miss Dressler for judging in a national contest.

Mrs. George W. Brown, of 704 Piedmont avenue, N. E., won second prize Thursday. The Dahlonega entry receives a prize of $25.00, and Mrs. Brown's poem will bring her a pair of tickets for "Christopher Bean," Miss Dressler's new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production which opens November 7 at Loew's Grand theater.

The poem contest is being held in honor of Miss Dressler's sixty-second birthday, which was Thursday. Governor Eugene Talmadge and Mayor James L. Key were among the scores of Atlantans who sent congratulatory telegrams to the star.

Any form of poetry may be submitted, but the poem should not run over 15 lines. The contest is for seven days, and today is the third day. "If your first effort does not bring a prize, try again, and maybe your next offering will be 'in the money.' And remember, the national prize is $250, offered by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer. The local prizes will be mailed by Grand theater."

The winning poem of Thursday, by Margaret Meaders, is as follows:

A TRIBUTE
I saw tired shoulders straighten and worn faces lose their frown
I saw old age discard its woes and youth laugh back at them
I saw the comely lady forget her rank and place
And smile at Rosie O'Grady with friendship in her face.

I saw the specter of defeat crawl from a strengthened front;
I heard old words with sighs begun, transformed into a song.
No more of defeat, no more of loss, no more of great wrongs,
No miracle from skies above had come upon the town.

'Twas just the pictured presence of a woman who, they knew,
Was the glowing incarnation of the spirit, "See It Through!"
And as the story ended, I heard the people "Life is gladder, richer, because Dressler passed this way."

Dahlonega, Ga. MARGARET MEADERS.

Operation Kills Pain For Victims of Cancer

CHICAGO, Nov. 9.—(AP)—An operation for relieving the pain of cancer sufferers was described by him before the Chicago Medical Society as having been successful in 25 cases.

Speaking at a cancer symposium last night he said the operation consisted of removal of the hypogastric plexus, the collection of sympathetic nerves lying against the backbone below the stomach.

With the aid of his associate, Dr. H. E. Schmitz, he said he had brought relief to 25 women suffering from incurable cancer of the womb. He said the operation involved convey sensations of pain from the lower abdominal organs to the brain.

WOMAN PAROLED FROM LIFE TERM

terly through several courts but the verdict was upheld.

Mrs. Hughes, who now is 41 years of age, was under the sentence of death for more than six months but the commutation came some time before the date for the execution. She began her prison sentence immediately.

At the prison in Milledgeville, it was said, Mrs. Hughes had been a model prisoner, conducting herself properly at all times and aiding the officials in every way.

Judge Howard last winter wrote to the governor asking that the woman be paroled but this effort was unsuccessful. He brought the matter up again recently and the recommendation of the commission was secured. The governor granted the parole on the same day the request was presented.

In a letter to H. A. Allen, Atlanta lawyer, who acted as her attorney in the murder trial, Mrs. Hughes expressed a wish to return to her mother's home in Alabama to live by the rules of parole will not allow this. She will be required to reside in Georgia and to report to the prison commission monthly.

Boykin and former Governor Walker, in framing the commutation, included a phrase stating the act of manslaughter her sentence was made on condition that she never be pardoned or paroled, but to serve the remainder of her life in prison.

Mrs. Hughes' husband, who is alleged to have watched her kill his mother, stood by her at her trial and daily listened to the testimony which caused her to be sentenced to the electric chair, then a new thing in Georgia. Atlanta lawyers who have acted for Mrs. Hughes said Thursday night they had not heard from him in several years, and did not know where he was.

WACCOA MAUDS ROOSEVELT'S AIM

BRITISH PREMIER Expresses Hope U. S. May Find Speedy Recovery.

LONDON, Nov. 9.—(AP)—Before a richly dressed throng which gathered with all the pomp of medieval London as guests of the new lord mayor, Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald expressed the fervent hope that President Roosevelt "may speedily find a way to recovery."

He emphasized that the British government is pursuing a policy of peace and disarmament and expounded Great Britain's efforts at economic rehabilitation which, he said, "we have done by no manipulation of the currency."

In his audience were brilliantly uniformed and richly clad men and women whose dress contrasted with the dignified court garb of many diplomats, including American Ambassador Bingham.

The scene was the Guildhall, the 15th century banqueting hall whose glittering candles and stained glass windows made it appear more like the nave of some ancient cathedral.

The host was Sheriff Sir Charles Collett, the lord mayor, who earlier had gone to the law courts, to take the oath of office, in an ancient gilded coach and escorted by his chaplain, the mace bearer and the sword bearer.

The prime minister stood beneath an canopy to deliver what the nation deems must be the government's views of international affairs and the British foreign policy.

He deplored Germany's withdrawal from the disarmament conference, and added:

"The present position of Germany is not good for Europe. It is not good for Europe."

"It only makes it more difficult—very nearly impossible in fact—for all of us to be both reasonable and generous. It must not be left where it is at the moment."

President Roosevelt has started "one of the most difficult and important experiments in the policy of trade recovery any statesman is called upon to undertake," Mr. MacDonald declared.

"We will watch, sometimes with anxiety but never without fervent hope, that he may speedily find the way to recovery."

NEW ECONOMIC ORDER ADVOCATED BY BISHOPS

DAVENPORT, Iowa, Nov. 9.—(AP)—A new economic order with equitable distribution of wealth and security for the masses was advocated today by the Episcopal house of bishops.

"No re-establishment of the old economic order will suffice," the letter stated.

It also declared that although rehabilitation of agriculture and industry is urgently important, "spiritual recovery must be made coincident with economic recovery."

The bishops called for a renewed emphasis on temperance.

"After Tonight" at Fox Has Connie Bennett

Constance Bennett, with Gilbert Roland as her leading man, appears in her latest screen production, "After Tonight," on the screen at the Fox theater today. The picture will show for seven days, including Sunday.

It tells the story of a woman spy, a Russian, in the World War, and of the dangerous love she feels for an enemy officer, attached to the counter espionage service. The Austrian forces. These two are thrown together on several occasions during the war and, the last time, it becomes the duty of the Austrian to arrest the woman he loves as a spy and turn her over to his own headquarters, where she will undoubtedly be court-martialed and sentenced to be shot.

It is a situation of surpassing power and grips every audience with its suspenseful thrills. How the girl escapes and how the two meet again, after the war is over, provides a thoroughly satisfying and brilliant finish to a splendid piece of screen entertainment.

In addition to this exceptionally strong feature the Fox theater presents a group of the newest and finest short subjects, including a Grantland Rice sports special and many startling late releases on the newsreel.

Debut for Max Baer In Grand Film Today

"The Prizefighter and the Lady," which opens today at Loew's Grand theater, is reminiscent of two famous old Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer films which preceded it, "Tarzan the Ape Man," it presents the film world with a handsome and appealing figure in the world of sport. "Tarzan" made Johnny Weissmuller a screen favorite; no less emphatically, "The Prizefighter and the Lady" presents in Max Baer a person of decided appeal and great potentialities.

"The Prizefighter and the Lady" is also reminiscent of "The Champ," Frances Marion wrote both stories, and she has made this new film as interesting as was "The Champ."

Max Baer is the conspicuous figure in "The Prizefighter and the Lady," but two other great figures of pugilism are to be seen—Primo Carnera, world champion, and Jack Dempsey, former holder of the title. Baer and Carnera appear in a fight, referred by Dempsey, which is one of the biggest entertainments the Grand theater has offered its patrons, and one which will have everyone, men and women alike, rooting for victory.

The gangster agreed to allow the woman he loved to seek happiness with another man. But he parts with her only with the understanding that if her husband mistreats her, the gangster will put him on the spot.

But she has turned the young fighter's head. He has run into just the danger which the gangster warned him against. The outcome of his fight now is to decide whether the prizefighter and the lady will return to a life of happiness, or whether they will go their separate ways. It is a thrilling and fascinating story, one which will gain Max Baer a wide and enthusiastic following.

CHEVROLET WINS TRUCK CONTRACT; FORD CASE DELAYED

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—(AP)—The war department today awarded a $214,803 contract for 300 1-1/2-ton trucks to be used in civilian conservation camps to the Chevrolet Motor Company, of Detroit, the lowest of seven bidders.

A $86,834 contract for 100 ambulances to be used in conservation camps was awarded to the Fargo Motor Company, of Washington, sales agency of the Chrysler Motor Company.

The order for the 300 trucks is not connected with the 1,600 trucks which the agriculture department will buy for the corps for use in the forests.

The Northwest Motor Company, of Bethesda, Md., a Ford agency, submitted the lowest bid for the 1,600 trucks.

When federal officials indicated the contract for these trucks might go to the second lowest bidder because Henry Ford has not signed the NRA code for his industry, the company asked the comptroller general for a ruling as to whether the low bidder should not be given the contract.

CHARLESTON, S. C., Nov. 9.—(AP)—Nineteen men, accused by the government of operating a huge liquor ring in South Carolina, were acquitted of conspiracy to violate the prohibition and tariff acts by a federal court jury here tonight, after a four weeks' trial.

The government contended operations of the ring were directed from a radio station the men had here. Leonard D. Long, Charleston businessman, was among those acquitted. His brother, State Senator J. C. Long, headed the defense counsel.

M'RAE-BOYKIN SUITS DEFERRED TO DEC. 4

The trial of the McRae-Boykin libel suits was postponed until December 4 by Judge Hugh M. Dorsey in city court, the judge Thursday ordering the case to be given first place on the calendar for that day. The suit against Mr. Boykin by his defeated opponent, William G. McRae, in the last election to the solicitor-generalship, asks $100,000, alleging libel. Mr. Boykin's counter suit against Mr. McRae on the same grounds alleges $300,000 damages.

The continuance was granted after Mr. Boykin's attorney, James A. Branch, had presented a medical certificate showing that the solicitor-general will be unable to be present in court for a week or longer. Solicitor Boykin has been ill for two weeks and is now at Wesley Memorial hospital.

KENTUCKY'S MARGIN FOR REPEL WIDENS

Interest Turns to Count of Ballots on Legislative Offices.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Nov. 9.—With late returns steadily increasing Kentucky's margin in favor of repeal of the eighteenth amendment, interest in results of Tuesday's election centered tonight on the proposed amendment to enable the legislature to remove the state real estate tax, and on contests for the majority of Louisville, 19 senate seats and 100 house of representatives seats.

Returns from 1,863 of the state's 4,204 precincts gave repeal a majority of over 34,000 votes, the count standing: For repeal 152,229; against 117,552. In Jefferson county (Louisville) with the count one-fourth complete, repeal had 18,265 and anti-repeal 14,458.

The proposal to authorize removal of the real estate tax developed a nip-and-tuck vote. Reports from 1,202 precincts throughout the state showed 43,184 votes for the amendment and 41,142 against it.

Approval of the amendment, submitted by the 1932 legislature, was expected to pave the way for a sales tax bill at the 1934 session. The sales tax, storm center of both the 1932 and the special 1933 sessions, was been once by the former and three times by the latter.

Incomplete returns from the legislative races assured democratic control of the 1934 general assembly. After leading throughout yesterday's count, Neville Miller, democrat who seeks to break a 20-year hold by republicans on the Louisville mayorship, was trailing Colonel Dan M. Carroll, republican, by 1,677 votes to 1,020 on returns from 170 of the city's 200 precincts. The vote was Carroll 18,029; Miller 16,352.

'Buy Poppy' Appeal McIe to Atlantans By Sale Chairman

Under the sponsorship of the American Legion Auxiliary, the Memorial Poppy sale will be held on the streets of Atlanta today. Mrs. Arthur H. Hazard, general chairman for the sale, makes the following appeal to the citizens of Atlanta:

"Honoring the dead and helping the living, is happily linked in the Memorial Poppy sale. By wearing one of the little red poppies, which the women will sell, we can pay an individual honor to the men who gave their lives for America in the war. Through the purchase of the flower we contribute to the relief of the disabled veterans and their families. Every penny of the money paid for poppies is used by the Legion in making life brighter for the men, women and children, who are still paying the price of our World War victory, in suffering and hardships. All of it will be expended by our own Legion men and Auxiliary women, right here in our own city. We all should wear a poppy, Friday, November 10, and we should pay for it with the biggest coin we can afford."

Representatives of Atlanta's prominent and patriotic organizations will assist the Legion Auxiliary in the sale of the poppies. Arthur Garner is poppy chairman for the Atlanta Post Number 1. Miss Schroder and Miss Clay Make Debuts at Driving Club

Mrs. William H. Schroder entertained at a brilliant reception on Thursday afternoon at the Piedmont Driving Club, to formally present to Atlanta society her lovely debutante daughter, Miss Betty Schroder, and pretty Miss Mary Clay, of Versailles, Ky., who is visiting Miss Schroder. Stately palms and ferns decorated the eastern end of the ballroom, where the guests were received by the hostess and her guests, and attending to the colorful bouquets and baskets of flowers sent by the legion of friends of Miss Schroder.

Handsome Costumes. Mrs. Schroder was gowned in bronze green crepe, the bodice introduced a high cowl neckline in the front, and draped over the shoulders to form sleeves. The gown was cut in a deep "V" in the back and a belt of green crepe and bronze lame defined the natural waistline, and the trimming was of bronze lame. She wore a shoulder bouquet of bronze orchids. Miss Schroder wore a gown of white satin, the long skirt fashioned with a graceful train, and the costume was trimmed with mink. Her shoulder bouquet was of white orchids, and she held an old-fashioned bouquet of pastel-shaded flowers. Miss Clay wore a costume of turquoise blue velvet, the epaulets on the shoulders being made of blue velvet, and similar flowers outlined the deep "V" in the back of the gown. She wore a shoulder bouquet of purple orchids and held a bouquet of Dresden-colored flowers. Long buffet tables were arranged on either side of the ballroom, coffee and tea being poured from handsome silver services arranged on the ends of the tables. Mounds of pastel-shaded flowers graced the lace-covered tables.

I always serve MECCA at my bridge parties. Women seem to like its sparkling flavor and it makes the play keener.

I find that guests like MECCA and a simple sandwich better than the fussy things I used to serve visitors.

My husband wants MECCA at dinner. He drinks a bottle at bedtime, too, because it brings sound sleep.

For parties, for guests, for family use, MECCA is the ideal all-purpose beverage... fully matured, healthful beer, made of choice ingredients by expert brewers. Men and women who know good beer delight in its mellow flavor, its sparkling, golden clarity. Keep a case of MECCA at home. Most reliable grocers, fountains and beer dealers sell MECCA. Buy this Drink of Friendship from them.

You can drink MECCA without worrying about your silhouette. Recent scientific tests show that properly made beer is wholesome and invigorating but not fattening.

Mrs. Heath Celebrates 83rd Birthday Anniversary This Evening in Roswell

By HESSIE S. STAFFORD.

The eighty-third birthday anniversary of Mrs. Kate Quintard Pratt Heath will be observed Friday evening, November 10, at a family dinner party given by her daughter, Mrs. Arthur J. Merrill, at the girlhood home of the honor guest in Roswell, Ga. Particular significance and sentiment is centered in this event, because Mrs. Heath will celebrate her birthday in the house in which she and her four children were born, and she is surrounded by her children and grandchildren.

Built of Red Brick. Built of red brick which were made on the plantation by slave labor, the house is a reminder of the glory of antebellum days, and stands on the left side of the road leading from the bridge which spans the Chattahoochee river. Five generations of Mrs. Heath's family have lived in the three-story of the ancestral home which has never passed from the possession of her family, being owned at present by Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Heath.

Merrill and Mrs. Heath open the house and remain there until late in the autumn to enjoy the pleasure of the holidays and the winter weather brings them to Atlanta.

Mrs. Heath's daughters are Mrs. Arthur J. Merrill and Mrs. C. P. Hunter, of Atlanta, and Dr. W. P. Heath, of Atlanta, and Albert T. Heath, of Sumter, S. C., are her sons. Her grandchildren include Mrs. Eugene Black Jr., Mrs. Harline Branch, Miss Billy Black, Harline Branch III, Oliver Harris, Ann Harris and William P. Heath III.

Mrs. Heath is the daughter of the late Rev. and Mrs. Nathaniel A. Pratt, and her father was for 40 years the pastor of the Roswell Presbyterian church. It was in this old-fashioned house that she became the bride of the late Alfred Taylor Heath, the ceremony being performed by her father. Mrs. Heath resided with her parents for 12 years after her marriage, in the house in which she will observe her birthday this evening.

Sharing the happiness of the auspicious occasion will be Miss S. Anna Pratt, the 89-year-old sister of the honor guest. They are the only living children of the 11 born to Rev. and Mrs. Pratt, who opened their eyes on this mundane sphere in the family home.

Miss Cerf Weds Albert Wise At Lovely Home Ceremony

The marriage of Miss Marjorie Cerf, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Allen Cerf, and Albert Marshall Wise, of Columbus, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Wise, of Columbus, was solemnized Thursday afternoon at a beautiful ceremony taking place at twilight at the home of the bride's parents on Springdale road. Rabbi David Marx performed the impressive marriage service in the presence of relatives, friends and guests from a distance.

Before the improvised altar erected in the spacious living room the young couple took their marriage vows. Quantities of palms, ferns and white long-stemmed chrysanthemums were employed in the effective decorations. The altar was banked with palms, and cathedral candelabra holding white tapers flanked the central decoration. Throughout the reception rooms Columbia roses in pale pink tones were gracefully arranged.

The beautiful young bride entered with her father, Edgar Allen Cerf, by whom she was given in marriage, and she was a lovely figure in her wedding gown of white tulle and velvet. The rich folds of the material fell in graceful length, the skirt being of floor length in the front and forming a slight train in the back. Silver fox fur ornamented the sleeves and achieved the fashionable broad-shouldered effect. Her slippers were of white velvet and she carried a muffled bouquet of gardenias fringed with valley lilacs.

Following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Cerf entertained at dinner complimenting the bride and bridegroom and the out-of-town guests. The table was covered with an imported cloth and centered with the three-tiered wedding cake embossed in pink and green flowers and leaves. Tall pink tapers were placed in silver candelabra.

OLE MISS FACES HARDEST TEST AGAINST VOLS

Mississippi Is Surprise Team and Packs Plenty of Power.

Mississippi, unbeaten and one of the surprise eleven of the Southeastern conference, faces its hardest test Saturday against the vaunting Volunteers of Tennessee at Knoxville.

Nine times in past years Mississippi has charged into the Volunteers and on as many occasions has suffered defeat. But few Mississippi teams have had the power the current club boasts. Tennessee, riding high again after two setbacks, may still be too strong. The Vols will have their full force ready, determined to halt this outfit which started Dixie by playing Alabama to a scoreless tie.

NOT AT BEST.

Although Mississippi's ability is not underestimated some experts feel that Alabama was not at its best against the Oxford invaders and that the Crimson would likely win a return engagement. And Alabama had a tough time winning from Tennessee. On the basis of these conclusions most critics look for the Vols to trip Mississippi.

Oglethorpe, always at its best in a giant-killing role, is pointing for Auburn. The Plainsmen, faced by hard games with Georgia, Florida and South Carolina ahead, may slack up a bit Saturday and Coach Harry Robertson has his Stormy Petrels ready to take advantage of any such opportunity.

Beaten in both its starts against southern conference rivals, Kentucky gets a win over Virginia Military at Lexington, Ky. The kicking strength afforded by Ralph Kercheval and a somewhat improved running offensive likely will prove too much for the Virginia Cadets.

FURMAN HOPEFUL.

Furman, a team that has been unbeaten in the south in two years and has had only 33 points scored against it in that time, hopes for an intersectional triumph over Bucknell at Lewisburg, Pa.

Five of the six unbeaten Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association teams risk their records this week-end. Loras, of New Orleans, and Mississippi College have the hardest assignments as these eleven meet Friday. Murphy, co-leader of the association with Howard College, may have some trouble with Tennessee Tech. Rollins should have its hands full with Erskine, while Centenary has an easy assignment against Union University.

OLE MISS.

University, Miss., Nov. 9.—(P)—Ole Miss shaped up her pass defense and worked over her punting department this afternoon, as Ed Walker's charges laid final plans for the game with Major Bob Neyland's Tennessee Vols in Knoxville Saturday. There was no scrimmage today.

Big Bill Richardson, sophomore tackle, who narrowly missed kicking a field goal which would have defeated Alabama earlier in the season, was given plenty of practice from placement this afternoon and split the bars from many angles. Ole Miss is virtually certain to try to score via the goal-kicking route in the event other attacks fail.

MISS. STATE.

STATE COLLEGE, Miss., Nov. 9.—(P)—A squad of 27 men left here today after a light workout concluding Mississippi State's training for Tulane's Green Wave, whom they meet at New Orleans Saturday.

Coach Ross MacKee took 10 backs and 17 linemen. Most of them are expected to see service against Tulane. He announced that the squad is in fine shape and he expects his charges will give a good showing. Though unable to play because of

Waivers Asked On All Players At Cincinnati

CINCINNATI, Nov. 9.—(P)—Waivers on every player on the roster of the Cincinnati Reds were sent out to other National league baseball clubs today, as the first step in Larry MacPhail's campaign to make a winner out of a consistently last-place club.

The action, however, is considered routine procedure for major league clubs, and rather as a feeler to ascertain what trades can be made than a declaration of intentions. There is nothing binding on either side.

Meanwhile, MacPhail, leader of the club in fact, though not in name, began scanning the similar lists of other clubs to ascertain where to begin actual trading negotiations. A claim was sent in for Flint Rhem, of the Phillies, but experts said he would have been little chance of getting him.

"I am not doing this with the idea of disposing of the entire team," MacPhail said. "Some of the players I will be very glad to sell at the waiver price of $4,000, but, of course, there are some who are worth a great deal more than that. I am simply sending out this list as a feeler to discover which of our players, if any, are in demand by one or more of the other clubs. It may be that a deal or two will result."

Hamilton, N. Y., Nov. 9.—(P)—Andy Kerr, coach of Colgate's football team for five years, today signed a contract to continue as head coach for another three years. Graduate Manager William A. Reid announced.

Wanted: Officials For Sandlotters

CINCINNATI, Nov. 9.—(P)—Waivers on every player on the roster of the Cincinnati Reds were sent out to other National league baseball clubs today, as the first step in Larry MacPhail's campaign to make a winner out of a consistently last-place club.

The action, however, is considered routine procedure for major league clubs, and rather as a feeler to ascertain what trades can be made than a declaration of intentions. There is nothing binding on either side.

Meanwhile, MacPhail, leader of the club in fact, though not in name, began scanning the similar lists of other clubs to ascertain where to begin actual trading negotiations. A claim was sent in for Flint Rhem, of the Phillies, but experts said he would have been little chance of getting him.

"I am not doing this with the idea of disposing of the entire team," MacPhail said. "Some of the players I will be very glad to sell at the waiver price of $4,000, but, of course, there are some who are worth a great deal more than that. I am simply sending out this list as a feeler to discover which of our players, if any, are in demand by one or more of the other clubs. It may be that a deal or two will result."

BULLDOG LINE IS WEAKENED BY INJURIES

Backs Are in Fine Shape for Battle in Big Bowl.

By Ralph McMill.

EN ROUTE NEW HAVEN WITH GEORGIA FOOTBALL TEAM, Nov. 9.—Georgia moved out of Athens shortly before noon today on the long trek to New Haven and the Yale game, leaving two regulars behind and taking along substitutes which will necessitate the revamping of the lineup should substitutions be needed.

Dick Maxwell and John McKnight, end and center, respectively, were left behind. The former injured an ankle too badly to play. McKnight had a dislocated collar bone. Lew Cordell, from Hartwell, Ga., a boy who has not seen any service this season, goes along as a reserve end. And Lawrence Costa, Red Devil center, never dreamed until this morning that he would ever make a football trip, to say nothing of going to the Yale bowl. And yet his 147 pounds may be in there at center.

MOOREHEAD GOES.

Leroy Moorehead, injured guard, hobbled aboard the train. He said he would play. His knee, which was hurt in practice Tuesday, is improved but still stiff. It is expected that several liberal applications of Saturday morning liniment will fix it for him to play. The center problem is really one which is graying the hair of coaches with each click of the rails toward New Haven.

Tom Perkinson, the Marietta boy, is really the only center along who is in all in one piece. He and Chapman back up the line on defense. If Perkinson should be hurt, and coaches grow faint at the thought, then Yank Ludwig would go to the aid of the line. Ludwig has not practiced in about two weeks. Should it be necessary to send Ludwig in Saturday, it will also be necessary to send a guard at one and the same time. Ludwig can play offensive center, but he would have to be shifted to defensive guard and a great move over to the defensive center position on defense as Ludwig cannot back up the line.

As a third choice, Captain Graham Batchelor can be sent from end to center on defense. Hence the problems confronting coaches, Harry Mehre was threatening any moment to try and develop a center out in the aisles of the players' car.

BACKS ARE OKAY.

The backs are in good shape. Buck Chapman, the big fullback, was lame this morning, but there was apparently nothing serious. A great send off was accorded the 33 players leaving this morning. All the school and many of the town people were down to see them off.

The team is in charge of Head Coach Harry Robertson. Backfield Coach Rex Enright and Wayne Baskin, assistant freshman coach, H. J. Stegman, director of athletics, and Charley Martin are also along. President S. V. Sanford will follow the team on a later train.

Some of the Athens people accompanying the team are Mayor Lon Dudley, Jr., and Fritz Chapman. Fred Costa, Mrs. Lawrence Costa, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Sams, Mrs. Walter Jackson, Pauline Jackson, Mrs. T. W. Reed, W. B. Williams Jr., Arthur Booth, Guy Henry, Dr. Weyman Davis, Dr. W. O. Payne, Miss Virginia Hodge, and Mrs. J. H. Talmadge, Walter Forbes Jr. and others.

MARIETTA FANS.

Marietta fans, represented by Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Perkinson, parents of Tom Perkinson, center on the team, and Mrs. Morgan McNeil. Madison was represented by Newton Vason; Monroe by Henry Tichenor, and Dalton by Blair Cannon.

Atlanta sent Paul Jones, A. L. Lipschitz, John Candler, C. E. Brewer, Harold Rirsch Jr., Wellborn Colby and others.

The team will arrive at New York about 9 o'clock Friday morning and then proceed to New Haven.

Yale Drilled On Pass Defense.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 9.—(P)—An intensive drill on pass defense—the weakness that caused Yale to bow to Army in its only defeat this season—occupied the Elis today in their final serious workout before the Georgia game.

Coach Hecgie Root had two backfields knocking down Georgia passes. The first backfield lined up with Tommy Curtis at quarter, Captain Bob Lassiter and Bill Keeling at half, and Earl Nikkel at full.

Kim Whitehead, study sophomore who suffered an infected foot after winning a varsity halfback post, was not at the field, and was definitely out of the Georgia game.

The injured first-string guards, Ed Nichols and Jimmy De Angelis, also were idle.

The Yale Athletic Association announced that a crowd of more than 50,000 will be in the Bowl Saturday to watch Yale attempt to stop the Red Raiders.

Jackets Drilled To Halt Aerial Attack of Florida 'Gators

LIGHT WORKOUT IS GIVEN BOYS AS GAME NEARS

Coach Alex To Start Regulars Against 'Gators Saturday.

By Jimmy Jones.

Buoyed up by the crisp, tingling weather of a November afternoon, a Georgia Tech football squad hustled through a comparatively light Thursday workout at Grant field, which was their semi-final for the game with the Florida Alligators at the same spot Saturday afternoon.

Coach Alexander, believing that the squad had had enough of the grinding work, waived scrimmages for the regulars and allowed them to leave their uniforms in "Major" Smith's supply room. The Jackets came out in mufti and "warm-up" well protected from the chilly breeze, and were put through a lively session on pass defense.

Coach Alexander, himself, was well protected, being bundled in a heavy overcoat and felt hat.

WORK ON PASSES

The Tech coaches have a warning from their scouts to watch out for the Florida sharpshooters Saturday afternoon. In "Hub" McNally, lanky half-back, and Billy Chase, a sophomore topper, the 'Gators have a nifty passing combination. McNally can throw them, as well as catch them, and there are a couple of ends who can snag them, too.

With light sessions called for yesterday and again today, Tech has passed the danger point of contracting further injuries. And Trainer Mike Chambers, by burning the lights late, has managed to get John Wilcox and Bob Warner, two right guards, back in uniform. Wilcox is in shape to start at his position.

Tech has not looked particularly impressive against the Florida stuff this week, including running plays and passes. But this often is a good sign and the fact must be considered that Tech has played a rigid schedule with three games on the road already. Coach Alexander guarded against the hint of staleness by laying off the scrimmaging Thursday and Friday. Only players who did not see service against Vanderbilt were given the rough assignments.

Yesterday, Lawrence Hays, freshman halfback, was brought into play as an impersonator of Billy Chase. Hays is a good passer. All of the varsity backs and linemen were given turns at defending against him.

STREET PLEASURES

Tech coaches this week have been well pleased with the progress of Billy Street, hard-running sophomore back, who is sure to see service against the 'Gators. Billy has been coming along gradually and has overcome an early tendency to fumble.

Coach Alex probably will start his regulars, but some of the reserves,

Old Ramblin' Wreck Has a Running Mate

Students Greet New March Song Enthusiastically; Music by Jimmy Beers.

By Jimmy Jones.

The old Ramblin' Wreck won't be lonesome any more on top of the musty and well-worn stack of sheet music in the band quarters out under the concrete tiers of Grant field.

That historic refrain, whose rollicking tune has led countless Georgia Tech football teams into battle, now has a stable mate or companion piece.

It is the Georgia Tech Victory March, set to music by Jimmy Beers, the talented young organist of the Fox theater and a rising young composer. Ernest Rogers donated the words.

Tech's newest march song has already been accepted and adopted by the student body as a regulation song. And Professor A. F. Garing, the veteran band leader of the Jacket musicians, has had the Jacket pipers rehearsing it, along with the Ramblin' Wreck, at every band practice.

They have already played it a time or so at Tech's home games, but the listeners in the stands probably didn't recognize it, since it hasn't received much advance notice. Then, too, every body who goes to Tech's games has become accustomed to only one song, the lilting, tuneful, never growing old, "Ramblin' Wreck."

For years, Tech went along with the "Ramblin' Wreck" and was listed in the late "Wop" Roman. There was quite an issue over the origin of the song, which Roman had copyrighted. It was an instant hit and was listed in a book including the nation's 12 most popular college tunes. Various nosy persons around and about tried to detect a faint hint of plagiarism in its notes. Some insisted that it was odd like the song of another school. They sat up late of nights, vivisectioning the "Ramblin' Wreck" until they almost wrecked it.

Several bandmasters and musicians tried to trace it back, but the closest kin they could find to it was an old Irish jig, that was something like, but wouldn't hold a candle to the "Ramblin' Wreck." So "Wop" Roman had it copyrighted and it bears his name as the author until this day, although a publishing house entered a claim for the title.

When Roman died, Professor Garing, a veteran musician of 24 years as a trombonist with the late John Philip Sousa and the New York Hippodrome, succeeded him as the Tech bandmaster. He has been in charge eight years.

Recently it was decided that the "Ramblin' Wreck" needed a running mate, so Messrs Beers and Rogers dug up the march song.

The new song has been published in sheet form by a Chicago music house and it also is going on the phonograph records and radio. It is a good, lively tune, original and stirring.

Professor Garing, a most obliging gentleman, had the band play the piece for the writer a few afternoons ago. And even to our untuned ears, the effect was pleasing.

LOTS OF WORK.

It is most interesting to delve into the origin of college football songs and what produces them. They are as much a part of the game as the crowds. The fans enjoy the band pro-

MONROE-T. H. S., G.M.A.-COLUMBUS TO PLAY TODAY

Decatur Meets LaGrange; Others on Road.

By Roy White.

A greatly improved Monroe Aggie football team will meet Tech High at 8 o'clock tonight at Ponce de Leon park in one of the outstanding prep games of the week. Both teams are very much in the race for a chance to participate in the state championship game and tonight's loser will be eliminated from further consideration.

G. M. A. plays Columbus High at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon at College Park and Decatur meets LaGrange at 7:45 o'clock at Decatur in the other local games today.

Three other teams, Russell, Druid Hills and North Fulton, play away from home this afternoon and Marist and Boys' High will hold light drills in preparation for Saturday games. Marist plays Benedictine in Savannah and Boys' High meets Lanier at Macon in Armistice Day games.

INTEREST DIVIDED.

Interest will be divided between today's games. Tech High has shown considerable improvement in recent practices and with Norman Perry back in the lineup the Spartans should face Monroe with their strongest team so far this season. Perry ran into scholastic difficulties prior to the season, but has been restored to good standing and will be ready to go. Jack Newlands, the big blocking fullback, has been given special instructions on carrying the ball and should give valuable aid tonight. Barnes also has made some improvement in handling the ball. Dowling completes the Smithie backfield tonight.

Tech High's line will include Pittman and Coyle, ends; Hinson and Orr, tackles; Holcomb and Demetrios, guards, and Oakes center.

Monroe's strongest lineup with capable reserves on the waiting list, will face Tech High. It will include Captain Reddick and Morris, ends; Golightly and Stokes, tackles; Sivil and Hale, guards, and Simmons, center, with Reed, Kite, and Vickers in the backfield. Reddick has played 60 minutes of every game and also has played almost every position on the team in emergencies.

G. M. A. WEAKENED.

G. M. A., with Rice, Jung and Argudin out with injuries, will be considerably weakened. None of the injured stars are expected to be in shape even for a few minutes work.

A great passing game is the forecast in the Lanier-Boys' High game. Both have expert passers, Boys' High has several capable combinations and every one will be in perfect shape for Saturday's game.

Marist, after winning the North Georgia interscholastic Conference crown Wednesday night, will leave tonight for Savannah to play Benedictine College Saturday afternoon. It is the second game of the week and the second of the G. I. A. for Marist this season.

Decatur will be somewhat weakened for its game with LaGrange tonight. Billy Pelt is still suffering from injuries received in the Tech High game, and Johnston, an end, has been on the injured list for several weeks.

RENTNER STARS.

If any of Northwestern's regulars have been wondering who was that freshman who passed them dicky in yesterday's practice, they can set their minds at rest. It wasn't a freshman but a Rentner. All-American back in 1931, and one of the greatest passers Northwestern ever has produced. He lined up with the yearlings to give the varsity a good workout.

WEBER MATCHES NEWCOMER HERE

Chief Chewchki is coming back to Atlanta, where the fans are more gracious about hat-anting.

It seems the Chief was in St. Louis the other night and discovered the fans there look on federal-lifting in much the same way as westerners do about boss stealing.

The Chief was wrestling Orville Brown, of Kansas. Chewchki was thrown from the ring and as he started back in he grabbed a felt fedora from a spectator. Vainly trying to chew it, he ripped off the band and tried to choke Brown with it.

On his next flying trip through the ropes the Chief was set upon by irate fans and given a black eye. Guards rushed in and the Chief thought they were members of the enemy and battled with them. With the result that he was somewhat man-handled ere he reached the dressing room.

Chief Chewchki has been matched with Darna Ostapovitch, the Lithuanian giant, who defeated Milo Steinborn Wednesday night at the city auditorium.

A newcomer, Dr. Carl Sarpolis, who wrestled with success from the Pacific coast to New York will meet Jack Zarnos in the one-hour match.

Dr. Sarpolis is a graduate of Chicago and is an M. D. He is 28 years old and weighs 220 pounds.

"Dr. Sarpolis comes with the highest recommendations," Weber said last night. "He has a fine record on the coast and in the east."

Tickets are on sale only at the Piedmont Hatters.

Wynne Abandons Second-Team Idea.

AUBURN, Ala., Nov. 9.—(AP)—Coach Chet Wynne has abandoned his idea of using reserves against Oglethorpe and will throw his strongest lineup against Oglethorpe Saturday.

The decision was announced today after the reserve eleven failed to click against Oglethorpe formations.

With the exception of Atrial, end, Rogers, halfback, the injured will be ready to go against the Petrels. Kemp will probably cover Atrial's end, O'Rourke will take Rogers' half-back post.

Marvin (Pug) Boyd, former Tech High football star and a sophomore on the Tech team, has been secretly married for more than a year, it was revealed Thursday. He was married to Miss Peggy Scarborough, of Atlanta, August 31, 1932, at Anderson, S. C. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Scarborough.

A daughter was born to Mrs. Boyd Wednesday morning at the Crawford Long hospital, but died within a few hours.

Pug and his wife will make their home with Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Boyd Sr. He expects to remain at Georgia Tech.

Cross-Ruffs and the Time Factor

BY ELY CULBERTSON
World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst.

There is no hand quite so difficult to play as that which involves the execution of a cross-ruff or a strain. The object of play designed to establish winning tricks in side suits after trumps have been drawn. The reason that this is much to puzzle the Declarer is that when he is confronted by this position is that the Time Factor is important in cross-ruffs and he must make a preliminary review in imagination the sequence of the plays he must make before he can determine the probability of success. It follows that if the first sequence which comes into his mind proves on analysis to be unsafe, he must consider another possibility, and then still another, until he finally strikes the right sequence.

This takes so much time that a player usually studies longer type of hand before playing the first trick than on any other. The following hand is a typical one. There are several lines of play which might well succeed, and was dealt in a recent large Duane game, practically no two Dealers played the hand alike. Strange enough, not one of them ever arrived at the correct line of play.

the proper solution, although the process of elimination it appears more logical. In some cases failure was due to lack of ability; but in many such as several of those who played, the hand were ranking experts, I arrived at the conclusion that they used their chance more through luck than through inability.

West opened the two of diamond in view of East's Double of four honors, most Declarers corrected him for a singleton, since he hardly have four, and would lead a higher card from a doubleton. In each case South won the trick with the king of diamonds, but at this point the play varied widely. Many Declarers plunged immediately into a cross-ruff without having first taken the time to ascertain on that line of play they could top only 11 tricks. Others tried to draw trumps and set up the heart suit and failed because of insufficient trumps to Dummy. All were set, some by as many as two tricks. A careful reading of the cards would have revealed the fact that if trumps were divided no worse than 4-3, the ace and queen of clubs either divided in the East-West hands or both held by West, the hand be made by drawing the nds of trumps, discarding the ts on Dummy's high diamond conceding a trick to whichever honor East held, whereupon

's club honor could be trapped
Dummy's remaining trump. This is safer, as well as surer, bee if there is a bad division of t rse trumps the lead of South will reveal it, and he can pla ake his remaining trumps sep-

GEORGIANS ATTEND SCHOOL AT TECH ON WATERWORKS

More than 150 waterworks experts from all parts of the state Thursday were attending a three-day waterworks school at Georgia Tech. The event is annually sponsored jointly by the school and the state department of health.

Water purification as an important phase of public health was being stressed, and experts also informed operators that proper handling of water would do much to reduce the expense borne by the public as the result of pipe erosion.

Philip Walters, chancellor of the University of Georgia System; Dr. M. L. Brittain, president of Tech, and Dr. T. F. Abernethy, director of the state board of health, welcomed the delegates.

Speakers Thursday included Dr. D. L. Seckinger, L. M. Clarkston, H. H. Weir, Professor H. A. Wyckoff and J. M. Kahn.

The school will continue today and will adjourn at noon Saturday.

CHIEF STURDIVANT, ON WITNESS STAND, FAILS TO AID NEGRO

The chief of police of Atlanta, as character witness, failed to establish the character of Alexander Bryant, negro, to the satisfaction of Judge Jesse M. Wood, in criminal court, who Thursday sentenced Bryant to 12 months in the chain gang and assessed a $75 fine on charges of assault and battery on two white youths and possession of liquor.

Chief Sturdivant testified that he had known the negro several years and that his character was good.

In sentencing Bryant, Judge Wood chided him for his apparent attitude of thinking that because he was acquainted with members of the police department he could do as he pleased.

At one point in the trial of Bryant, Judge Wood took over the questioning of Chief Sturdivant and asked him if, when the chief testified as a character witness for a woman in a recent trial, the chief had not had knowledge of raids upon her home under his own written orders. The chief replied that he probably had had such knowledge.

TEACHERS TO ATTEND DETROIT CONVENTION

A delegation of Atlanta teachers will spend the Thanksgiving week-end in Detroit, where they will go to attend the annual convention of the National Council of Teachers of English. Included in the group will be Miss Adelaide Cunningham, head of the English department at Commercial High school; Mrs. F. E. Garnett, head of English department, Bass Junior High school; Miss Frank Taylor and Mrs. H. W. Cantrell, instructors in English at Bass Junior High, and Charlie Black, Tech High English instructor.

Miss Cunningham will act as secretary of the conference on school journalism, to be held on Friday afternoon, December 1. Miss Rose Fletcher, assistant principal at Commercial High school, and Miss Virginia Ballard, English instructor at Commercial, have been asked to report at the photoplay appreciation committee meeting the same afternoon on the photoplay appreciation experiment conducted in the Commercial High school during the last school year.

Atlanta Twins To Compete Today For Constitution-Paramount Prizes

Katherine Cecil Thurston, famous author, wrote a story which she called "The Masquerader," based on two men who looked exactly alike. Twins of Atlanta who will come to the Paramount theater this morning will be given guest tickets to see "The Masquerader" on the screen, with Ronald Colman in the chief role, a dual part, besides standing a chance of winning cash for looking like each other.

The Constitution and the Paramount theater will have a committee of three men at the theater at 11 o'clock this morning to determine which sets of twins the more closely resemble, and to the set which looks the most similar an award of $5 will be made. The next nearest similar set will be awarded $3, the third nearest $2, while the fourth nearest similar will be given a one month's double pass good for any performances at the theater.
